BRITAIN DETERMINED TO RETAIN CYPRUS

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain told Greece today that the maintenance of British sovereignty over the Mediterranean island colony of Cyprus is vital to NATO defence commitments.

Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, strongly restated the known British attitude in a long historical survey of the Cyprus problem at the first business session of a three-power conference with Greece and Turkey, conference sources said.

Macmillan's refusal to concede any move to turn the island over to Greece, as demanded by elements of its predominantly Greek population, had been expected.

VANCOUVER (BUP)—More Brown, secretary of Police Federation, constables were called to testify before a royal commission inquiry into the force had degenerated considerably lately because of low morale.

Brown was slated to continue his testimony today.

Rookie Cop Gives Details Of Vancouver Drug Round-Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate Oscar Orr will decide Thursday what course justice will take in the trial of the first of 32 persons to face drug trafficking charges as the result of this month's drug roundup by two rookie policemen.

Complete crown evidence was in the record in city police court Monday when the magistrate adjourned the hearing of John Madden, 35, truck driver of no fixed address, until Thursday.

He told Madden: "I'll put this case over a few days ... it's a very serious case ... a serious charge ... I may even consider putting it up to high court for trial."

Such an action would make Monday's police court action a preliminary hearing, although Madden selected trial by magistrate without a jury.

One of two charges of trafficking in drugs with two police undercover operatives was heard Monday. The second will be heard, whether as a preliminary hearing or a trial, after Magistrate Orr makes his decision known Thursday.

New Tax on Cars, Bars, Movies Urged for Cities

Phones, Electricity Also Taxable Under UBC Expert's Plan

EDMONTON (CP)—Broadening of the municipal tax base by the imposition of taxes which the municipalities would have to collect was proposed today by Dr. Robert M. Clark of Vancouver, associate professor of economics at the University of British Columbia.

NEW PROPOSALS

Fruit, Milk Strikes Near Settlement

KELOWNA, B.C. (BUP)—The six-day strike of 3,000 Okanagan Valley fruit pack-house workers neared a settlement today as the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union (AFL-TLC), accepted terms of a conciliation offer.

Brian Copney, director of organization for the union which called the strike last Thursday in support of demands for a 10-cent an hour wage boost, said "the terms are a bit rough but at least they can be accepted as an honorable compromise."

The compromise offer, details of which were not immediately made public, was put forward by G. A. Carmichael, provincial government conciliation officer who was appointed at the week-end.

Representatives of the milkmen's union and 10 dairies reached an agreement in Vancouver Monday in a wage dispute that threatened to halt milk supplies in the Greater Vancouver area. Union officials will recommend to a general union membership meeting that the dairies be signed with the dairymen.

Agreement in Vancouver makes a brighter picture for 185 Victoria drivers and inside dairy workers and three distributing firms here, although it was not certain that distributors would accept the mainland settlement as a basis for further negotiations.

Victoria workers have already been awarded parity in respect to wages and working conditions, with Vancouver workers, but the conciliation report granting equality was rejected by the three Victoria firms.

Ten in Nanaimo Hit by Polio

NANAIMO (BUP)—Medical health officer Dr. E. W. Best reported today there are 10 positive cases of polio and two suspected cases in the Nanaimo district. Six of the cases have originated from an outbreak at Duncan, and one from Cowichan, he said.

CIVIC HEAD UNHAPPY

'Policemen Always Win at Arbitration'

EDMONTON (CP)—The city commissioner for Saskatchewan said Monday arbitration for police and firemen in Saskatchewan has "made a mockery out of collective bargaining."

H. W. Balfour told the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities that the two bodies of employees now have a "gross advantage" of establishing wages and working conditions.

Under Saskatchewan law, policemen and firemen unable to negotiate a working contract must go to arbitration. The award is binding on employer and employees.

Mr. Balfour, in discussing municipal labor relations, said police and firemen get whatever they can from their employer and then say it is not enough, that the employer is being unfair and taking advantage of their "no-strike status," and apply for arbitration.

He said arbitration boards "invariably" treat them as a "helpless supplicant who must, of necessity, be helped by the board."

Turning to press relations, Wells Ritchie of Toronto, editor of Civic Administration, said municipalities usually get the press relations they deserve.

"Don't be afraid to treat newspaper reporters like honest, intelligent, public-spirited citizens," he told delegates "for the percentage is about the same as it is among mayors and other civic officials."

Speaking to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Dr. Clark suggested four courses of action to help the municipal finance problems:

1. A municipal levy on automobiles;
2. A municipal amusement tax;
3. A municipal tax on electricity and telephone bills; and
4. A municipal tax on outlets selling alcoholic beverages.

He said a tax on all motorized vehicles, collected at the same time as the provincial licence fee, could yield a significant amount of revenue. Saint John, N.B., already has such a tax.

He said he would like to see the provincial government vacate the amusement tax field in favor of municipalities.

REPAY CIVIC OUTLAYS

The basic justification for taxation of alcoholic beverages was that they are luxuries whose consumption "lead to the need for greater expenditure on certain services, such as hospitals, than would otherwise be necessary."

Dr. Clark said the addition of one or more of the suggested taxes would have four advantages: Help maintain the independence of municipal councils in determining civic policies; make the basis of local revenues slightly more stable; make the municipal taxation system fairer; reduce the burden on property and business taxes.

He cautioned municipalities there was a danger of them losing their independence if they continue to get more grants from the province.

Earlier Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto spotlighted the financial problems of municipalities in an appeal for another federal-provincial municipal conference.

Mayor Phillips said that in 1951 70.9 per cent of tax revenues went to the federal government, 17.2 per cent went to provincial governments and 11.9 per cent went to municipal governments.

He told the conference, attended by 400 delegates from across Canada, municipalities have been forced into fields which were never intended for them.

"Because municipal government is the government closest to the people, we have often been pressed into action rather than wait for the senior levels to get around to the job."

The municipal tax burden now is too much for some persons, he said.

'DON'T GAMBLE'

Stock Leader Gives Advice To Little Man

By DAVE STOCK
Times Business Editor

VANCOUVER—How should a working man who manages to scrape together a few hundred dollars go about getting into the stock market?

The answer to that question, according to G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, is: "He shouldn't."

Nobody should invest in common stocks until he has provided a reserve for himself either in a savings bank or in government bonds," Mr. Funston said in an interview today.

"He should get that first in case of emergency and should also have sufficient life insurance in case of catastrophe."

Mr. Funston, who at 44 has been four years the head of the world's most famous market place, said that only after those first conditions had been met could a man "take the risk of owning common stocks."

PLAN PROGRAM

Mr. Funston, who arrived here Monday night to take part in the 38th annual meeting of the National Association of Securities Administrators, said, too, that a person getting into the market for the first time should proceed with caution and plan his program with someone with experience.

"A man investing in common stocks should tailor his portfolio to meet his needs," Mr. Funston said.

The New Yorker regretted that many novice investors refused to follow this recommended course.

"The average Joe Doakes," he said, "figures he's going to make a killing on the market. If he does, he'll take all the credit himself but if he doesn't he blames the securities industry."

Mr. Funston said he placed uranium issues "at the bottom of the list" so far as investors, with limited means were concerned.

"People should only put their money into highly speculative issues when (a) they know what they're doing and know that the money is going into the company's operation, and not just to the promoters, and (b) only when they can afford the risk of losing."

Mr. Funston will be one of the principal speakers when the security administrators convention moves to Victoria to conclude its work there on Wednesday and Thursday. He is scheduled to address a luncheon meeting Thursday at noon in the Empress Hotel.

High Pressure Stock Sellers Hurting Canada

Head of U.S. Stock Exchange Says Huge New Capital Needed Here

By DAVE STOCK, Times Business Editor

VANCOUVER—A few high-pressure, fringe operating security dealers in Canada are doing great harm to this country's investment picture as viewed in the United States, Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, said here today.

Speaking at noon to delegates attending the 38th annual meeting of the National Association of Securities Administrators, he described the fly-by-night operator as "a fly in the ointment" and impressed upon his audience "These are the individuals whose activities must be ended if investor confidence in Canadian investments is to be maintained."

Mr. McCormick emphasized that only a minority of Canadian dealers was guilty of such behaviour but stressed "Their transactions have an overall impact far out of proportion to their relative number."

Canada, Mr. McCormick said, is assured of a great future as a producing industrial nation but to achieve this status a vast amount of new capital will be needed here.

The amount of this new capital, he said, "will pale into insignificance the sum invested and expended on capital projects during the past post-war period. And this capital must be obtained not only from fresh domestic sources but foreign sources as well."

The United States, he said, was the logical source of the biggest share of outside capital. During the nine years ended December, 1954, he said, U.S. investment in Canada had increased from $4,990,000,000 to $9,517,000,000.

With reference to the American Stock Exchange, Mr. McCormick explained: "Over many years we have recognized the growth potential of Canadian industry and, as a consequence, we have today become the largest market for Canadian securities outside of Canada."

At the end of 1954, the American exchange had 95 Canadian issues listed, and the volume of trading in these securities for the year amounted to 41,396,955 shares, representing more than 25 per cent of the exchange's entire volumes.

Russian Arms Sent Into Troubled Areas?

Dulles Says Reds Reported Ready To Ship Equipment to Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles said today there have been reliable reports that Russia has offered arms to some countries in the Middle East.

Such an action by Russia—the supplying of arms to nations in a troubled area—would not contribute to the relaxing of world tensions, Dulles said.

He made clear to a press conference that he had no official information on the reported Russian offers of arms.

Reports of the offers have circulated for several weeks in diplomatic quarters here.

But he responded to a question about whether he knew of offers to Egypt or other states in the Middle East, and said simply that there are indications that such offers may have been made.

Dulles said there was no evidence that he knew of that Soviet equipment actually was in Arab hands. Those countries have been getting their military supplies from non-Communist sources, he said.

Dulles also said the U.S. has urged both Israel and Egypt within the last 48 hours to refrain from the use of force in their border dispute.

Prairie Grain Crop To Top 500 Million Bu.

OTTAWA (CP)—The bureau of statistics in its first forecast of 1955-56 grain output today predicted a wheat crop of 500,387,000 bushels. If realized, the crop would be 67 per cent greater than the last crop year's low 299,000,000 bushels. It would compare with the 1945-54 average of 443,800,000 bushels.

France Planning New Talks With Moroccans

PARIS (AP)—New negotiations with Moroccan nationalists are planned by France in a drive to set up a stable home-rule government for the North African protectorate.

Important changes in the Moroccan political picture appear imminent, but there has been no announcement of the details involved.

The French cabinet completed a two-day discussion of Moroccan policy Monday and announced steps will be taken to establish a new government within two weeks.

New Arms Plan Spelled Out By Eisenhower

Routine Outlined for Full-Scale Co-Operative Exchange of Data

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Britain, Canada, France and the Soviet Union today began detailed study of a United States invitation to share in an exchange of military blueprints and submit to aerial inspection of each other's territory.

The United States, which made the offer at Monday's opening session of the renewed UN five-power disarmament sub-committee talks, announced it would ask the UN General Assembly to endorse the plan, when it meets next month.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U.S. delegate to the UN, explained in detail President Eisenhower's disarmament proposals, first advanced at the Big Four conference.

He said the United States is prepared to put the plan immediately into effect "as between ourselves and the Soviet Union."

Lodge said the word "blueprint" used by Eisenhower in the plan, "the identification strength, command structure and disposition of personnel, units and equipment of all major land, sea and air forces. A complete list of military plants, facilities and installations with local ones would also be exchanged.

UNRESTRICTED FLIGHTS Other details explained by Lodge included:

1. Each country would allow "unrestricted" but monitored aerial reconnaissance by other nations. "Personnel of the country being inspected would be aboard the aircraft."

2. The exchange lists of military installations would include the designation of one or more airfields or bases to be made available for the support of reconnaissance aircraft and crews.

3. Adequate communication facilities required for rapid and direct reports by observers to their home governments would be provided.

4. Each government would designate ports of entry and departure for observers and aircraft where a check would be made on personnel and equipment used in the operations.

This afternoon the delegates met behind closed doors to discuss out the American proposal and other plans presented Monday.

British, France and the Soviet Union each put forward plans, largely repeating proposals made at the Big Four conference at Geneva in July and at the disarmament sub-committee talks in London in the spring.

Among the other plans presented Monday, Moch restated Premier Faure's suggestion for budgetary control of armaments with the money saved to be used for peaceful assistance to underdeveloped countries.

Spokesmen for the five powers are Canadian Health Minister Martin; Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser; Anthony Nutting, British minister of state; Jules Moch, French special envoy, and Arkady A. Sobolev, permanent Soviet delegate to the UN.

BAKER, MECHANIC WIN SOCCER POOL FORTUNES

NAIRN, Scotland (Reuters) — Robert Mittle, small baker and candy maker, burst into the Scottish air "Gae Bring to Me a Pint of Wine" today after learning he had won £71,428 for a sixience bet in a national soccer sweepstake. The money is tax free.

Mittle, 34-year-old amateur baritone, said now that he had won a fortune "I'll stack up a wee bit at work 'til he be able to go back into the church choir."

DAGENHAM, Eng. (AP) — Ernest Victor King phoned the boss today to tell him he is quitting the mechanic's job he held for 30 years.

The 56-year-old London suburbanite won £63,270 in a football pool — the first big winner of the new soccer season.

Anglican-United Union Bugged Down

Archbishop Barfoot Urges New Talks Keyed to Non-Organic Amalgamation

EDMONTON (CP) — Archbishop W. F. Barfoot, Anglican primate of all Canada, said today talks with the United Church about the organic union of the two churches have reached a "point of ineffectiveness."

The statement was contained in the text of his charge prepared for delivery to the general synod at the opening of the 10-day session.

"I can discern no really strong urge towards organic union on the part of the general membership of either church," he said.

Any move within the church to organic union was "for the most part inarticulate."

The committee on the reunion of Christendom, he said, will ask the synod for instructions regarding the lines of future talks with the United Church.

"Some fresh approach is indicated."

MUTUAL APPRECIATION Future talks could probably "most profitably follow the ecumenical movement."

The ecumenical movement is an association between churches and does not involve organic union.

In such conversations there would be no deadline to meet.

No Buttle Lake Stand By Saanich Council

Saanich Council Monday decided petition, "I feel it will take the action in the Buttle Lake controversy unless residents petition the council."

The council's decision followed a request by C. S. W. Brock that council recommend to the provincial government that the Buttle Lake issue be left to the Legislature to decide.

The cabinet recently approved a B.C. Power Commission contract for the construction of a dam at Upper Campbell Lake which will result in the flooding of the lake by 12 feet.

While several councillors agreed that Buttle Lake was an asset to the people of Vancouver Island, they felt they should take no part in the controversy unless residents expressed a desire for council to do so.

"The question is can a Power Act overrule an act which stipulated that Buttle Lake was to be set aside for the public for per-

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. This substance has been relieved—without resort to surgery.

No one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among those sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute.

Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Builders Want Coastal Trade For B.C. Ships

Shipyards Face Stagnation Unless Steps Taken, Commissioners Told

British Columbia's shipbuilding industry Monday told the federal royal commission on coastal trade the province's three remaining yards are threatened by "stagnation."

Harold Husband, of Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd., told the commission the shipyards' "plea for survival" is based heavily on the strategic position of these three yards.

With H. A. Wallace, of Yarrow's Ltd., he called for blocking of the Canadian coastal trade to foreign nation ships. Both shipyard heads said the coasting trade should be reserved for ships built and registered in Canada.

Mr. Wallace said such restrictions would be a means of "not only protecting the livelihood of a good part of our population (about 40,000 men, women and children are dependent on the industry) but also of ensuring that shipyards on this coast may remain a vital link in Canada's national defence system."

He said B.C.'s yards must maintain a position from which "a speedy conversion to war footing can be made."

FAR-FLUNG EFFECT

Mr. Wallace said that if shipyards are allowed to deteriorate to their 1939 level or lower, the "economic reverberations" will be felt from coast to coast, "because the complexity of the yards today calls for materials and supplies from all parts of the nation."

Mr. Wallace said that a conversion similar to that which saw B.C.'s yards built up from 1,000 men to 25,000 men during Second World War would be impossible today.

"Unless a way can be found to keep B.C. shipyards operating at a reasonable level of activity, experience that takes years to acquire will be lost to the industry, and the rapid emergency expansion required by a future war will be impossible," he said.

NAVAL WORK OFF

Mr. Wallace said that naval contracts, which have accounted for more than 50 per cent of work done in B.C. yards, are dropping. "The naval program has passed its peak, and with no new naval work in sight, B.C. yards face a rapid decline which will begin affecting the capacity for future work by the end of this year," he warned.

Mr. Wallace said that from 1946 to mid-1954, 307 Commonwealth and foreign vessels, totaling 82,881 tons, have been imported for the B.C. coast trade.

Most of the vessels were war surplus U.S. craft, "dumped" at a fraction of their replacement cost. "A continuation of this relentless importing of obsolescent and war surplus ships, along with importations from the United Kingdom, may well result in the deterioration of the west coast shipbuilding industry."

HURTING ALLIES

Mr. Husband said closing or crippling of the B.C. industry is against the interests of Canada and all her allies in the Free World, "because of the situation existing in Red China and the Far East."

Mr. Husband said the loss to United Kingdom yards of con-

FERRY TO PORT ANGELES ON LAST RUN SEPT. 30

Washington State Ferries will withdraw Mv. Kalakala from the Victoria-Port Angeles run Sept. 30, the Victoria agent, C. E. Blaney, announced Monday.

Final sailing will be from Victoria at 7:45 p.m. The ferry was put in service when Black Ball Line pulled off the run to concentrate on the Nanaimo-Vancouver route, and at the time Washington State officials said they would take over the run for the summer season only.

The CPR's Victoria-Port Angeles service will be withdrawn for the winter Sept. 24, with the 7:20 p.m. sailing from Port Angeles.

The other link between Vancouver Island and the U.S. mainland, the Sidney-Anacortes service, will continue until Oct. 15, instead of ending Sept. 30, as originally planned.

In making the announcement, Mr. Blaney said the ferry Mv. Kijickitar can handle up to 80 passenger cars, and trucks having a vertical clearance of 11 feet, four inches.

Saanich, Esquimalt Okay Amalgamation Survey

A survey to assess amalgamation prospects for municipal governments.

The explanatory letter from chambers of commerce pointed out the survey would be entirely independent, representing no bias toward or against over all authority for this urban area.

The inquiry, to be conducted by a competent investigator, is proposed by junior and senior chambers of commerce acting together, who would also pay the estimated $5,000 expense.

Both councils accepted the idea of a survey readily, on the understanding it would cost them nothing and would commit neither to a stand on the theory of amalgamation of local governments to an investigator may be limited.

The idea of a form of county government was proposed by Saanich Cmr. S. W. Brook, who also said it is time for a Royal commission to investigate municipal-provincial relations as a recent commission inquired into dominion-provincial relations.

Esquimalt councillors did not discuss their leanings, one way or the other.

Because of the smallness of Esquimalt municipal staff, councillors felt the supply of infor-

Canada and China

CANADA EVIDENTLY IS MOVING as rapidly as conditions permit toward the recognition of China's actual government. This is the meaning of Mr. Pearson's recent speeches in Victoria and Vancouver.

The conditions governing Canadian policy are not all within Mr. Pearson's control. He has to consider the United States, and in the case of China, as in all foreign policy, must put first things first.

The two basic premises of Canadian policy—each part of the other—is agreement with Britain and the United States, our essential friends and allies. We cannot afford to conciliate China at the expense of antagonizing our closest neighbors.

This does not mean, however, as Mr. Pearson's words and acts have frequently proved, that Canada cannot afford to have a foreign policy of its own. Mr. Pearson has not hesitated to disagree with the United States on issues which permitted no compromise. But, like any responsible foreign minister, he strives to keep our policy moving parallel to that of the American Government and, where possible, to inform, to influence and sometimes to warn American opinion.

Clearly his latest public statements are designed to inform the United States that Canada desires eventually to recognize without, of course, approving the Government of China. This has long been Canada's intention. We would have recognized China long ago if it had not embarked on the international crime of the Korean war—a crime by the collective verdict of the United Nations.

We have postponed recognition until that crime was purged, until China showed by its actions that it sought peace, and until recognition would not cause a serious breach between Ottawa and Washington. Mr. Pearson seems to think that this time is now approaching.

On the one hand, China has made no aggressive move of late and no longer talks of seizing Formosa by force. On the other, the United States has recognized China in fact, though not in form. It is negotiating with Chinese representatives, because they alone can represent the Chinese people or conclude any agreement.

The Eisenhower Government is embarrassed and restrained in its Asiatic policy by its earlier commitments and by the exigencies of domestic politics.

No doubt, if China continues peaceful, Washington wishes to end an unrealistic situation and establish normal relations with Peking. Any move in that direction encounters the opposition of the Knowland wing of the Republican Party.

In these circumstances Mr. Eisenhower may welcome Canada's present attitude. If the United States' closest friend should recognize China that would be a powerful argument for American recognition.

Mr. Pearson's speeches, obviously beamed at Washington, doubtless have these things in view. He says that our policy toward China will be governed entirely by our own interests, as it must be. But one of our largest interests is American friendship and this cannot be imperiled by any premature move in Asia. The objective of our policy is recognition of China but its timing will be as important as its contents.

Light in the Mushroom Cloud

DR. JAMES R. KILLIAN JR., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has advanced two arguments supporting the principle that thermo-nuclear developments increase the possibilities of peace.

His first point is familiar. He believes that by establishing overpowering stocks of new weapons capable of total destruction, leading nations can frighten possible aggressors away from war.

On a more constructive plane, he adds:

"The second special way science may be reducing the will for war, and thus increasing our security, is by producing at an accelerating rate new ways to improve man's lot, his health, his standard of living, and his opportunities for spiritual growth."

"May not," he asks, "the breath-taking possibilities in the peaceful use of the atom so command the energies and capture the imaginations of mankind that he will conclude that he can gain more from nature than from fighting?"

Dr. Killian seems to be advancing the theory that conflict between the "haves" and the "have-nots" can be removed by transforming the latter into the former. If abundance can be provided for all, then an ancient cause of war can be eliminated. It may not be the only cause, but it is an important one.

The Malthusians could add a depressing commentary to that argument. They would say that as science improved man's lot by providing something more than subsistence for existing populations in backward countries, the peoples of such nations would increase the population so that sufficiency became merely subsistence again.

There may be merit in the Malthusians' case, but it is nevertheless encouraging to see men of Dr. Killian's background looking a little further ahead than Sir Winston Churchill's peep over the rim of hell to the possibilities of better living throughout the planet. At all events, the president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will be joined by thousands in the hope that there is justification for Toynbee's prediction that this century could be "the first age since the dawn of civilization . . . in which people dared to think it practical to make the benefits of civilization available to the whole human race."

Time to Overhaul the Truce?

THERE IS INCREASING EVIDENCE that the truce arrangements in Korea are not working out as was intended. A part of the agreement that terminated the fighting was an understanding by both sides not to increase their arms and forces in the peninsula. This requirement has been observed in South Korea; but in the north, according to reliable reports, the truce terms are being violated.

The violation ranges from secret troop movements and shooting down of an unarmed U.N. trainer plane in the neutral zone to a substantiated charge that Communists have been floating mines down rivers that cross the border, resulting in deaths to a number of South Korean women.

The result of these incidents has been to rouse the South Koreans to anger and rioting. They charge that the truce commission in South Korea is serving as a safe post from which communist members of the commission can spy on South Korea. In North Korea the truce commission has encountered difficulties in carrying out the inspections which are a major part of its duties.

If this situation is not to deteriorate further it is obvious that the United Nations must take some corrective step. The Government of South Korea has appealed to the U.N. to dissolve the truce commissions since they are ineffective. This might be difficult, since it no doubt would require the agreement of all parties to the truce. But the present situation is in the nature of a powder keg. Korea must not be permitted to become explosive a second time.

WHILE MEMBERS OF THE Commonwealth express a form of family pride in applauding Australia's triumph in Davis Cup play they will add, too, a cheer for Bill Talbert, captain of the United States team which lost the world's most important tennis trophy.

The Australians won magnificently, taking all four singles and the one doubles match.

"Our team," said the American captain, "was fit and played the best it could. We were beaten by better players. We have no excuses."

Whether it cost Mr. Talbert an effort to express those words or whether they came easily, they have been said. And the saying of them marks a return to sportsmanship so frequently missing in international athletic events of recent years.

The current Australian team has reasserted its country's supremacy in a game at which it has excelled for decades. Bill Talbert has re-introduced into Davis Cup play one of the decorations of the sport—the graceful loser.

There will always be champions in different branches of athletics. Let's hope there will be an increasing number of Bill Talberts to make sport what it is intended to be.

As Our Readers See It

SPEAKING FOR COONS

I have been deputized by the members of my rapidly diminishing society, The Raccoons Protective Association (short title: RPA) to reply to the letter by Mrs. Gerrard Mason which was published in your paper recently. Our organization has no connection whatever with the Fish and Game Protective Association. We have seen their members in action and we are not exactly in accord with their definition of the word "protective."

I will not attempt to deny or excuse the allegations contained in Mrs. Gerrard Mason's letter. The simple fact of the matter is that we are described in your dictionaries as "small, tree-climbing, flesh-eating mammals" and we take our flesh when and where we can get it. We most certainly do go after poultry, but we can only get at them in places where the chickens have allowed their pens to get into conditions of despair. Where the netting is adequate we are just out of luck. We have our own code of ethics and recently a member was disbarred from the Association for life for having in his possession a pair of wire cutters, a screw driver and several sticks of dynamite.

The point I wish to make, however, is that you humans, who should know so much better, are hardly in a position to criticize us raccoons for being cruel. What about the animals which are killed for your own consumption? I have been told that no humane killing methods are employed in your abattoirs. This being the case it seems to me that the old adage about people in glass houses being careful where they throw rocks is not only timely but most appropriate.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I wish to make a special plea for our raccoons. We are a very small part of your remaining wild life. If we and the other animals are all killed off there will be nothing left but human beings and what a revolting development that would be!

METAL CONSERVATION

For our children's sake and for Canada may I suggest a project for your own and other organizations?

As you know, our civilization and our high standard of living are built on and around the metals such as copper, iron, lead, nickel, zinc, etc. It has been proven that continental supplies of these metals are "running dangerously low," so if we want to prevent our children from sinking to Asiatic living levels we must start now the greatest conservation program in the history of man.

If the royal commission on our economic future is to find the ways and means to conserve enough of those metals it will need the best suggestions from all of us. The project would therefore be for you to gather from your readers and other organizations from their members, metals conservation suggestions for presentation to the royal commission.

CONTRADICTIONS

There has been a constant reference in letters from those who may be described as theists, to this that or the other statement as being the Word of God.

Searching the Book, which some consider the Word of God, I have so far come upon well over 100 direct contradictions in that Word which leads me to suspect that this Book is nothing more than a tangled concept of the immature minds of an age which was merely on the fringe of an awakening intelligence.

I will burden you with but a few of the many contradictions. I have come upon in my study of the Holy Scriptures. In Gen. 32:30 we find "For I have seen God face to face" while turning to John 1:18 it is written "No man hath seen God at any time." Then in Mat. 19:26 we read "With God all things are possible" but in Judges 1:19 the Lord "could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had chariots of iron." In James 1:13 "For God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man" and turning to Jer. 18:11 it says "Thus saith the Lord, Behold I frame evil against you and devise a device against you." I know of four other places in the Bible where it is said that God is the author of evil, and these four more places where it says that God is not the author of evil. And in Matt. 7:8 we read "Every one that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth" but turning to Ps. 18:41 "They cried, but there was none to save them; even unto the Lord, but he answered them not."

Who is to say which is the Word of God and which is not, in the more than 100 self contradictions of the Bible which I can point to?

LEAVE THE COWBELLS HOME

Now that lacrosse playoffs are about to start how about Nanaimo lacrosse fans leaving their cowbells and other noise makers at home?

Sixty five or 70 years ago the sound of cowbells along Commercial and Nicol streets was a very familiar one but it is entirely out of place and a great nuisance at an indoor game. Heaven knows the majority of Nanaimo fans make enough noise without the addition of any noise makers and people trying to listen to a broadcast of the game can't hear anything, but cowbells and the "T-Chant."

So . . . Nanaimo fans, please leave your cowbells at home and reduce the double FF off the "T Chant" to 31 muendo.

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Beware the Facts

IN OTTAWA Mr. Walter Gordon, who is said to be one of the ablest business men in the country, and a staff of trained experts are preparing to find out what makes the Canadian economy tick. I humbly suspect that they will never find out. In the first place, though the economy is well worth study, and can be studied, it is only the reflection of something else which no one so far has studied with success. It is the reflection of certain ideas which are quite beyond the reach of economists or even of psychologists.

In the second place, when Mr. Gordon and his colleagues have grasped the economy entire and written its anatomy down to the last dollar and decimal point they will have scratched the surface only.

For an economy is not in essentials a chart of figures or even a complex of factories and farms. It is a complex of incalculable human beings who produce and distribute wealth in certain fashions.

In the end everything depends on how these people get along together, how much they are prepared to work and produce, what they choose to consume. The motivating power and the mystery of the economy reside in nameless millions who hardly know themselves what they want and change their minds from day to day.

This system of mystery and change works very well, by and large, better anyway than any other system yet invented. That fact is the greatest mystery of all. For when you penetrate beyond what is called the national economy into the lives of the many individuals who compose it you find something very like chaos.

There is in this country today hardly a single person who is thoroughly satisfied with the economy as a whole. There is no one, I suppose, who is entirely satisfied with the management of the existing or any previous government. There surely is no one who doesn't think he could do a much better job than our statesmen: economists, bankers, industrialists and labor leaders if he had the chance.

Yet when you consider the affairs of government and big business on the one hand and then the affairs of the average private household on the other, what do you find? You find government and business a comparative miracle of efficiency and the household in reeling confusion. Why, if the national government, the banking system and our large industries were run like the ordinary household the nation would instantly collapse.

Confusion on Disarmament

By JOSEPH ALSOP, From Washington

THE practical value of the Geneva conference is now to be tested for the first time, at the meeting of the United Nations Disarmament Commission which opened today. The best guide to the test is an incident that took place here in Washington shortly before the President left for the summit.

In those pre-Geneva weeks, no subject divided the highest echelons of policy makers more violently than the subject of disarmament. Having been named the President's disarmament specialist, the always ambitious Harold Stassen was now, in effect, running for high office on a disarmament platform. Stassen therefore favored bold action on disarmament at Geneva. For obvious reasons, he was also supported by the President's psychological warfare adviser, Nelson Rockefeller.

In all three armed services, in contrast, the mere idea of a serious discussion of disarmament caused the liveliest alarm. The Pentagon was unanimous in not wanting to offer the rather hastily considered disarmament plan then being stressed by Stassen, and unanimous, too, in not wanting to offer any plan at all. At the state department, meanwhile, Secretary John Foster Dulles maintained the highly sceptical attitude that marked his whole approach to the summit conference. As the summit meeting grew nearer and nearer, the president's hopeful enthusiasm grew warmer and warmer.

But Dulles never wavered, especially on the question of disarmament, from his viewpoint that tangible results were not to be expected.

STRONGEST EMOTIONS

Such, then, were the approaches to the problem at the crucial pre-summit meeting which the President called to work out an American disarmament policy. In its first stages, this historic discussion of disarmament threatened to deteriorate into a name-calling match. The Stassen-Rockefeller approach and the Pentagon approach were diametrically opposed, and the strongest emotions were felt on both sides.

Secretary of State Dulles acted as the great reconciler. He used the rather simple expedient of shoving the real issue under the rug, or at least off the conference table. He said, in effect:

"We know we are not going to attempt any disarmament without adequate safeguards. Therefore it is not worth arguing about what kind of disarmament we are going to accept and support, until we are sure that the other side will accept the right kind of inspection. Let's concentrate, then, on inspection and safeguards, and let's forget about disarmament until we have passed the inspection and safeguard hurdles."

AGREEMENT REACHED

This shrewd intervention by Dulles brought agreement out of the intra-governmental wrangle which might otherwise have continued indefinitely. Thus the way was opened to the moral victory achieved by the President's famous proposal of mutual aerial inspection.

But one vital point must now be grasped above all others. What the President talked about at Geneva was not disarmament at all. It was inspection. What the newspapers have extensively described is the belated notices of Gov. Stassen's program for lapse. That, at least, is my experience with the ordinary household.

THERE may be households efficiently managed. There may be households who know how much they can spend, how much they owe, and what everything is costing them. There may be Canadians who actually live within their means and can afford the goods they buy. If so, they inhabit a higher, more intelligent and more virtuous sector of society than most of us, a very stratosphere of sound economics.

The great majority in this or any other country, I am convinced, are not economic creatures at all, have an instinctive and sound hatred of economics and an unalterable prejudice against facts. They always prefer life to facts and they know, subconsciously but with age-old wisdom, that no one can live long on or even with facts. For facts are the great enemy of human happiness.

If anyone but the members of a royal commission were to face the obvious facts for a single day I doubt that he would wish to live until tomorrow. Nay, I suspect that even royal commissioners, facing facts in office hours, are just as violently opposed to them as the rest of us in their private moments—that is to say, when they are really living.

One would have little confidence in this latest royal commission if it were composed of men who could never ride above facts who were royal commissioners rather than men. Knowing some of the members of the commission and some of its leading experts, I am able to reassure the public on that score. With these men as with the rest of us, I feel confident, facts are only the brittle tools of the working day to be laid aside and discarded when anything of importance has to be confronted.

THE public is always demanding facts from governments, from economists, even from newspapers, and it receives them daily in abundance, but is interested in them only as an afterthought and casual annex of its real life.

If anyone doubts that, let him ask himself in private candor, whether he is as interested in the federal budget, the great national fact, as in his new automobile or speedboat. Let him say honestly whether he has devoted as much thought to federal provincial relations, surely another great fact, as to the evening's television show. Let him say truthfully whether he is as much worried about the Gordon Commission as about his annual vacation or even his dinner or his ulcer.

Of course he is not. If he were he would not want his dinner, and his ulcers would be incurable. He would not be a man at all. He would be only a fact, a fate worse than death, or rather death itself.

The U.N. disarmament meeting starting today, is not disarmament either. It is still inspection. Disarmament is the end. Inspection and safeguards are the means by which the end is first made possible and then insured.

Moreover there are still the same wide differences of view about disarmament among the policy makers as there were before Geneva.

So far as can be discovered, therefore, American post-Geneva policy is only a refined and elaborated version of American pre-Geneva policy. A detailed program of inspection and safeguards has been prepared for presentation at the meeting.

It will combine the two features: the mutual aerial inspection proposed by the President, plus fixed ground inspection teams stationed at key rail junctions and other points where preparations for aggression may be observed to reduce the possibility of surprise attack.

Other ideas are also in the air. Stassen has been talking of an arms freeze at existing levels. This the Pentagon hates, even though an arms freeze might be better than Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's system of gradual but continuous defence cuts.

CONTROL IMPOSSIBLE

Stassen has also concluded, quite rightly, that there is little use any longer trying to control nuclear weapons. Partly this is because they are now too easy to make. Partly it is because no amount of inspection could insure the destruction of the other side's existing stocks. And partly it is because nuclear weapons control would hamper civilian atomic development.

But with nuclear weapons control held to be impossible, Stassen naturally inclines towards limitation of the means of delivering nuclear weapons. That will mean sacrificing the Strategic Air Command, the only real remaining element of American offensive power. And before anything of that sort is attempted, both the Pentagon and the American public will have a good deal to say about it.

In short, although Stassen may be ready to offer his own private disarmament program as well as his inspection and safeguards program, this country is not any nearer to having an agreed, thoroughly supported approach to disarmament. Yet we are now plunging into a disarmament conference.

FALSE SITUATION

This is the kind of false situation that always arises when the attempt is made to decide by fiat the highest questions of national policy. And in the present case it is an enormously dangerous, false situation, for the Soviets most particularly do not want the inspection and safeguards that Stassen is ready to talk about. And if they really want the disarmament that Stassen cannot possibly talk about with the authority of a national spokesman.

MARKED for READING ONLY THREE

There are only three pleasures in life pure and lasting, and all derived from inanimate things: books, pictures and the face of nature.

—William Hazlitt (1803).

Why Face It?

WITH many of the opinions Gladys Shrapnel expresses in her frequent letters to the editor I disagree. With her most recent submission I am largely in accord.

Writes the lady:

"Local columnists' comments on what things will be like in the year 2000 AD raise speculation as to what newspapers will be like in these future years, and whether columnists will still be showing people day after day, year after year, what they look like."

"Who wants to know what columnists look like?" "They have a tendency, I believe, to be hard-boiled, but even so the deadly monotony of necessary daily contemplation of their own faces in the glass while washing them should be sufficient to what mortals are called upon to endure."

How true! How monotonous! But thanks, lady, for the concession that we do wash daily, and confidentially, a lot of us aren't so hard-boiled.

INAPPROPRIATE

Frankly, I don't think columnists care much about having thumbnail cuts of themselves inserted in their columns. Generally, a person who puts out an article regularly tries to change his pace. Sometimes he may strive for humor or whimsy. At another time he writes as seriously as he can. Again he'll want to do a nature piece, a bit of human interest or attempt a modicum of style.

Unless his visual identification in the column is completely deadpan, he's apt to show a face completely out of character.

Let him be serious, and chances are his likeness will have that Groucho Marx cat-and-the-slick-cream look. Let him attempt satire—which is extremely dangerous and should at all times be labeled "satire" in print—and he may have the expression of a man dreamily contemplating a sunset.

Seldom is the writer satisfied with his own picture. Secretly he doesn't think it does him justice. And no matter how many times he has the photographer take him, as sure as a different cut appears in the paper he'll be asked: "Why don't you get a new mug? That's awful."

CAPTAIN BLIGH

I know one highly skilled writer who chose a print from several taken for him because he believed it showed character, energy, force and seriousness. So the thumbnail was made and used and the boys in the office quietly called him "Captain Bligh."

I know the family of another distinguished newspaperman which has been trying for years to find a cut that resembles him. At odd times they've been satisfied with a picture. Converted to metal it has transformed a certain reserved asceticism in the man's face to a grim, tight-mouthed ruthlessness that leaves you nervous.

Monte has the best plan. Occasionally he'll use the portrait of a baboon, a goat or an excellent view of his own back-head. In a gaily insouciant way he's showing that if he takes anything seriously, it isn't his own likeness in a newspaper.

I don't know how many readers share the sentiment indicated in Gladys Shrapnel's "Who wants to know what columnists look like?" but I think more people should support her.

It would save columnists possible worry about how they looked to potential readers. And it would free me, personally, of that Dorian Gray feeling when I glance at page 5 Tuesdays and Fridays.

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

Some New Mental Tests

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

In a recent number of the Journal of the American Medical Association was an interesting article by Drs. G. R. Kamman and Charles Kram on the several mental tests that can be used to reveal quickly much about the mental status of a patient, and his tendencies to mental disease. In some of the tests the patient marks yes or no after several hundred questions. Then a trained secretary summarizes the information given. Another test gives an idea of what parts of the body seem to be producing symptoms when the person is mentally upset. One person will get a headache, another will be sure he has heart disease, and another will be sure he has a cancer of the stomach.

Another test is very helpful because it gives the psychiatrist an idea of how well the patient will respond to psychotherapy. To illustrate: The doctors tell of a woman whom they refused even to try to treat, because, after her tests, they felt so sure that, with her limited intelligence, she would not or could not respond to any efforts at psychotherapy. Many years ago, I learned quickly to dismiss the mentally disturbed man who has but little intelligence, no insight into the nature of his problem, and no sign of any tendency to listen to what I am telling him or to cooperate with me in his treatment. Every physician of experience knows the hopelessness of trying to help a woman who insists on breaking in and doing all the talking, even when he is trying to tell her what she might do to help herself back to health.

With the Rorschach test the patient is shown a set of ink blots and asked to say what each reminds him of. There is, also, the Murray Thematic Apperception Test, in which the patient is given 20 pictures and asked to write a short dramatic and imaginative plot about each one.

TIME, MONEY SAVED

These tests can doubtless be helpful, and they can save the doctor much time and the patient much money. The only difficulty I see is that so many of my patients have come from psychiatrists much dissatisfied, because about all they got were these tests. When I asked, "What did the doctor advise you to do about your unhappy marital problem?" the patient answered, "He didn't tell me anything. I didn't even see him. An assistant kept giving me tests until I got disgusted and left."

I hope the psychiatrists, when too busy to see a patient, won't often do as many other physicians do, which is to send the man for laboratory tests and X-ray films to keep him busy until, perhaps, time can be found in which to see him.

SMOKING STATISTICS

According to statistics recently released by some U.S. government bureaus and published in that delightful little weekly journal, Science News Letter, about half of the men and a fourth of the women in America smoke cigarettes every day. One and a half million have quit smoking in the last 18 months.

About 4,000,000 of the 25,000,000 men who smoke consume less than half a pack a day. Some 500,000 smoke more than two packs a day; most smoke from 10 to 20 cigarettes a day.

Two out of three men between the ages of 25 and 64 years smoke regularly. Some 2,500,000 men smoke cigars every day, and 7,500,000 smoke them occasionally. Perhaps 3,500,000 men smoke a pipe regularly, while 4,500,000 smoke one occasionally.

Among women between the ages of 25 and 34 years, 35 per cent smoke, while among women aged 65 years and over, only 4 per cent smoke. Grandmother is still a bit old-fashioned and we love her that way.

ASPIRIN FOR KIDNEY STONES

According to a recent report by Drs. E. L. Frien and B. S. Walker, a daily dose of aspirin stopped the growth of kidney stones in the cases of 17 out of 19 patients.

If further study should prove this to be true, it is great news for those many unhappy persons who get one attack of kidney colic after another. One thing all such persons should do is to have their parathyroid glands carefully checked with the help of measurements of the calcium and phosphorus in the blood. At the Mayo Clinic, since such checking has been made routinely in all cases of kidney stones, many tiny parathyroid tumors have been found in the neck. Their removal can cure the patient.

AN ANTI-CANCER SERUM

Reports from Sweden say that some physicians there have been producing an anti-cancer serum by repeatedly injecting cancer cells into horses. The fact that the serum obtained will destroy the cells from some cancers is very encouraging, and it would seem that more work should be done in this field.

Man Acquitted on Charge Of Assaulting Constable

Counter-charge against a citizen of assaulting an off-duty city police constable was dismissed by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in Esquimalt police court Monday.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas said he could find no grounds to support the charge laid against John Davis, 1254 McKenzie, by former constable James Bligh. Bligh was convicted Friday on a charge of assaulting Davis, causing actual bodily harm.

Both charges were laid following a fight at the rear of the

No Rush to Dig Potato Crop

As long as the weather remains dry there is no need to rush the digging of main-crop potatoes.

It has been found that potato tubers make their most rapid increase in size during the two weeks or so in which the top growth, or haulm, is withering.

This is also the case with the various daffodil bulbs and the reason why a gardener who wishes increase in bulb size and number of flowers makes it a rule not to disturb the bulbs until the foliage is completely dried.

However, you may come across the gardener or gardening book recommending the digging of potatoes when the foliage shows the first signs of age.

This is neither contrariness nor a whim. It is based on experience in districts having rainfall each month of the year. The dampness increases the potato blights which affect the tubers while in storage.

In a wet season it is wise to sacrifice size for a clean crop, but in dry districts (or seasons) we can well afford to delay digging and increase the weight of the crop.

Occasionally we find a potato plant which has hundreds of "marbles" attached to roots and stems. This is caused by the soil-borne disease called rhizoctonia.

All the small potatoes should be collected and burned, together with the foliage, from such plants. If the trouble is serious, only early potatoes should be grown, unless the soil can be sterilized and left idle for a season.

Death-defying DARE DEVILS prove Dunlop Tubeless Tires are the "safest things on wheels"

Being shot out of a cannon, and 80 feet through the air is just one of the many hair-raising stunts of the Congress of Canadian Dare Devils now touring Canada. In every stunt it's the tires that take the worst beating. Everything depends on them. It's certain death if the tires don't hold up under these gruelling high-speed conditions. That's why Canada's famous Dare Devils again this year insist on Dunlop Tires exclusively on all their stunt cars!

For almost half a century and around the world

Dunlop, founder of the pneumatic tire industry, has been designing and building the finest tires made... without ever sacrificing highest safety standards to so called "bargain" prices. Since 1927 every world's land speed record, including today's 395 m.p.h. by John Cobb, has been made on Dunlop Tires. You, too, can enjoy the confidence of having the "safest things on wheels" on your car. Buy the tire with the built-in Extra-Safety Factors. You can bet your life on Dunlop!

WILL SHE? WON'T SHE? GLORIA ISN'T SAYING

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP)—Mrs. Vivian Keys said today her granddaughter, 12-year-old Gloria Lockerman, hasn't decided yet whether to try for the $32,000 prize on a television quiz program tonight.

Gloria, who has spelled her way to $16,000 in prizes, probably won't make up her mind until she and her grand parents arrive in New York later today for tonight's show, "The $64,000 Question," her grandmother said.

Gloria, who someday hopes to become a teacher, has been named an honorary teacher in the Baltimore city school system by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr.

LONG WED, NOW PARTED

AFTER 17 YEARS of marriage movie actress Frances Langford and actor Jon Hall have quietly obtained an "amicable" divorce, it was learned Monday.

Miss Langford filed the suit some time ago on grounds that were not known. The divorce was granted last Tuesday in circuit court at Titusville, Fla.

It was the first marriage for each and the couple had no children. They had married in June, 1938.

CHINESE SYSTEM PAID OFF

City Couple Wins $2,638 at Races

A city couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan H. Crooks, 1045 Joan Crescent, Monday collected $2,638.30 by cashing two tickets on the richest daily double of the Vancouver racing season—a $1,256.75 return for coupling Easy Riding and Cabbett, plus a $2 win ticket on Cabbett which paid $62.60.

They used the "Chinese alphabet system" to make their win. The so-called "Chinese alphabet" system for picking winners is one that hunch players—particularly the ladies—often use.

All you do is take your program and start spelling out the alphabet against the name of each horse in order. When the letter you spell coincides with the letter beginning the horse's name, that is your pick.

For instance, for the Crooks family, Cabbett was number three in the race. While A and B did not fit the first two entries C fitted Cabbett, and that became their choice.

"I am confident Tempo VII can top the record by 10 to 15 miles an hour," said Lombardo.

"BLACKBOARD JUNGLE"

CAPSULE SYNOPSIS

When Richard Daxler (GLENN FORD) took his first teaching job, in a metropolitan vocational school, it wasn't long before he found himself in a bit of a predicament. His big chance at the goal he had set for himself upon getting out of the Navy, his chance to make his wife, Anne (JANNE FRANCIS), proud of him. He expected the kids in such a school to be tough. But he couldn't possibly anticipate the events of the first 24 hours after he stepped into his classroom. Or later, that the wife of vengeance that threatened his very life also should enfold him. Any teacher might find himself in a war of wits against his pupils. Any man might find himself tempted by a beautiful "other woman" looking for excitement to relieve her tension. But a war of survival against teenage bangers and the perils of the romance of love (HARRISON, MARGARET MAYES), were things Richard hadn't counted on. It is a story of determination and the love of a girl like Anne to bring success out of chaos.

GOGIE GOGGLE-EYED AT FREDDIE'S FIDGETS

Dancing like a cat on a hot tin roof, Nanaimo Timbermen's spectacular goalie Fred Fulla shows some of the antics he was put through Monday night as Victoria Shamrocks defeated Nanaimo, 14-8, to take 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series for Western lacrosse championship. At left, Fulla braces himself to meet a wave of Shamrock attackers. Fulla throws his body into a Shamrock shot in second picture and follows through with his leg in third panel as the shot bounces off his body. Meanwhile, on the Nanaimo bench, helmeted Gogie Stewart makes sure spare goalie Alf Shuker, extreme left, got benefit of Fulla's lesson.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

"Alright, everybody, listen!" This was coach Red McMillan of the Victoria Shamrocks.

And this was the Shamrock dressing room. And these were the Shamrocks, one jump ahead of Nanaimo Timbermen in the expected leap-frog series for the Intercity Lacrosse League playoff championship.

Walker

Jack Bionda, with tongue in cheek and space showing where once a dental structure filled its purpose, walked nervously across the floor.

"Now listen! You gotta hit those guys tonight." (Those guys being the Timbermen bedecked with the shiny new collar that belongs to league champions.)

Club trainer Dusty Mair never missed a move as he taped a bandage on the tender wrist of Bob Monaghan, a wrist that was to guide a webbed stick in the battle of consequence that was to follow.

"You may have thought Saturday's game in Nanaimo was important. Well, this one is a hell of a lot more important."

Goalie Geordy Johnston looked down at the fish basket that lay across his knee and punched a fistful of leather into the webbing.

"Your offence was okay Saturday, but your defence—it was lousy."

Peewee Bradshaw fitfully fingered his sweat jersey and drew a gloved hand across a troubled brow.

"Now tonight I want the following guys to check these guys." You check Ashbee from behind and McNulty and Davies in front . . .

Mair silently turned his attention to another tender wrist, that of Lou Landess, as the assignments were delegated.

"And listen to this. I want you guys to watch for a fast change. We're going to change quickly; we're going to put a fresh line on against a tired line. And we're going to keep on putting a fresh line against a tired line."

Ralph Baker, team manager, bent over the relaxed form of Arnold Ferguson and the pair whispered a moment. Ferguson answering with a slight gesture of the hand in final understanding.

"I want the forwards to break up the floor quickly when we get possession. I don't care where you go, but get up the floor and take two of them with you. Make 'em run, and make 'em keep running, and watch for the player change."

Bob Dobbie chewed more vigorously on his gum.

"Tire 'em out; you can do it. You did it in Nanaimo. But you gotta run, and you gotta get up that floor. We're going to hit that tired line of theirs with a fresh line like we did Saturday. But you gotta work."

Larry Booth fingered the lace on his stick, striving for the proper tension and feel.

At that moment the warning whistle sounded and the familiar and nerve-setting cry of "let's get going gang," with its various adaptations of grim fervor, rang out above Red's voice.

One Two . . . Three Four, and How True

"One two . . . three four," the canned band in the gondola greeted the Rocks.

This was the Irish theme song, and how adept it was to be in the 14-8 rout that was to follow.

"One two . . . three four." It was almost that quick in the first period.

Meanwhile, Johnston was tremendous as he locked the gate, the big hole he had punched in his stick growing bigger as the game progressed, playing catch with the Timbermen as he was to do for most of the evening.

McMillan's assignments were being carried out to the letter, almost.

For it was when somebody didn't "hit those guys" that the Timbermen proved the wisdom of Red's advice, briefly making a fight of it.

But as that was to be expected, so was the benefit of the Irish strategy "we'll hit their tired line with a fresh line."

The Timbermen were never more tired.

Or as the Rocks will hear again Wednesday before the third game.

"Alright, everybody listen. You gotta hit those guys and you gotta run. We did it Saturday and we did it Monday."

"But if you think those games were important . . . why, you were lousy."

Although they weren't really.

Swaps Slight Choice For $100,000 Gallop

CHICAGO (AP)—With Both Nashua and Swaps considered in peak form, track experts expect Wednesday's $100,000 match race at Washington Park to be one of the greatest of all time.

Everything will be even except, perhaps, the odds. The latest on the Caliente book lists Swaps at 240-5 and Nashua 9-10-5.

Both three year olds will carry 126 pounds for the 1 1/4 mile event. This is the same as the weight and distance for the Kentucky Derby, when Swaps handed Nashua his only setback of the year with a 1 1/4-length victory.

Both colts will be ridden by about the best jockeys in the business, Eddie Arcaro up on the east's Nashua and Willie Shoemaker on the west's Swaps.

Chisox Get It Tough

Face Rugged Grind; Bean Balls at Brooklyn

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The second place Chicago White Sox, stumbling along, the same as the other American League contenders, take their first dose of a kill-or-cure remedy tonight.

During the next six days White Sox play two games with fourth place Boston Red Sox and four with third place Cleveland Indians.

Manager Marty Marion's guys aren't exactly sickly, not when they're just half a game behind first place New York Yankees. But they aren't really robust, either, after losing five of their last eight and with four of the defeats at the hands of seventh place Washington Senators and last place Baltimore Orioles.

Baltimore kept up the "resurrection" Monday, slapping fifth place Detroit Tigers 13 1/2 games back by sweeping a double-header 6-0 and 4-3 in the only American League action.

AGAIN.

In the National, Brooklyn Dodgers made it three straight, whipping St. Louis Cardinals 10-4 to get 12 games out front again; Chicago Cubs spilled New York Giants to a fifth straight defeat 6-3, and Cincinnati Reds legged homered past Philadelphia Phillies and Robin Roberts 4-3.

A beanball battle flared early at Ebbets Field but plate umpire Jocko Conlan put his foot down in the fourth inning, warning both managers after Stan Musial was hit on the right hand by a Johnny Podres pitch and Cardinal right-hander Tom Poholsky had hummed one behind Jackie Robinson.

SNIDER ROLLING

Duke Snider and Carl Furillo homered for Dodgers in the seventh. It was Snider's first since Aug. 5 and he made further signs of shaking his slump with a single and triple. Roy Campanella also homered for Dodgers.

SEATTLE STILL LEADS BUT MARGIN REAL SLIM

By The Associated Press

Seattle and Hollywood are nip and tuck in the Pacific Coast League and both teams will be trying tonight to break the tie in their own favor.

Technically Seattle leads the league on percentage with a .001 edge, but the two clubs are tied on games. The Stars evened it up last night with a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles, while Seattle was idle. In the only other game Portland defeated San Diego, 4-1.

Council Felt For Joe, But Backed Chief

Saenich council voted to do it, but they had no other alternative Monday than to stop Joe Robbins of Saenich from playing for New Westminster's soccer team, which will compete for the Dominion Cup championship next month.

Robbins, a Saenich fireman, a member of the Royals' team, applied to council for a month's leave of absence.

But Fire Chief Joseph Robbins, a winner he declared by Thursday night of this week in order to start the B.C. finals.

The finals will open here on Saturday, with the winner from Fletchers-Arrows playing the mainland champs, Vancouver IBEW.

HERO ONE MINUTE

Prior to Wiebe's blow the grandstand managers were having a field-day-second-guessing coach Gar Taylor of Arrows.

Taylor entered the game in the eighth-inning, after left-fielder Dave Price had tripled. The teams were deadlocked at one run apiece, and the canny Taylor figured on putting a little more speed on the base paths. The strategy looked good after Taylor had scooted home on a fly ball to centre-field, and Arrows took the lead for the second time in the game.

But in the last of the eighth Taylor miscued on a single hit by Les Wilson allowing the runner to move up a base from where he eventually scored on two outfield flies.

'There Are', Said Arnie, Some 'Who Couldn't Care'

By BILL RAYNER

"Come on Nanaimo, we didn't want it to be this one-sided."

So shrieked a female fan in section 32, east, at Memorial Arena Monday night as she voiced her disapproval at the Nanaimo Timbermen bench situated directly in front of her.

It was early in the fourth quarter, and the Timbermen were yawning along at an 11-5 deficit to the Victoria Shamrocks. Eventually the Shamrocks won, 14-8, to take a 2-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven Intercity Lacrosse League final and, if the lady intimidated, it was easy.

Coach Arnie Dugan of the Timbermen thought somewhat the same way. Stripping wearily in the dressing room for his post-game shower, coach Dugan observed that Investing their gold-plated playoff assets shrewdly, Victoria Shamrocks looked like money in the bank today as far as the Intercity Lacrosse League playoffs are concerned.

Shamrocks cashed in their second payday of the series Monday night and maintained a perfect credit rating with a resounding 14-8 victory over Nanaimo Timbermen.

That gave them a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven final for the Western Canadian lacrosse championship.

Earning some working capital Saturday they sold past Timbermen, 15-13, in a hand-quaking finish, Shamrocks padded their roll Monday night. The pay-line forms again Wednesday night, Timbermen again will be guarding the wicket in their home arena, a fact that didn't

Lions Show Too Little Too Late; League Lead at Stake Saturday

By The Canadian Press
The "big game" of the Western Interprovincial Football Union's early 1955 schedule will be played at Edmonton Saturday.
Two undefeated teams—Saskatchewan Roughriders and the Grey Cup champion Eskimos—will be seeking their fourth straight league triumph.
Frank Filchock's Roughriders scored their third consecutive victory at Vancouver Monday night by defeating British Columbia Lions 19-13 while at Winnipeg, Calgary Stampede came from behind to down the Blue Bombers 15-13.

The win by the Regina team matched the record of three straight victories by Frank Pop Ivy's split-T Eskimos and the win by Calgary was the first in three starts for the split-T Stampede, now tied with the Lions behind Saskatchewan and Edmonton.

KLOSTERMAN SHINES
At Winnipeg Monday night it was a 26-yard touchdown pass to Bill McKenna by quarterback Don Klosterman that carried back Don Klosterman, a castoff import from Toronto, Argos, which brought Stampede behind. Klosterman scored Calgary's other touchdown. End Tom Miner converted both and added a single on a kick. Fullback Bob Meyers kicked singles for Calgary's other two points.

Winnipeg counted on touchdowns by halfbacks Tom Casey and Jerry James. Quarterback Buddy Leake converted both and added a single.
In addition to the Saskatchewan-Edmonton game Saturday, Lions move into Winnipeg Monday. Winnipeg will be at Calgary and British Columbia at Regina.

Three times B.C. was within the Riders' five-yard line and failed to score, feeling the loss of fullback Al Pollard, who suffered a spine injury against the Eskimos in Edmonton, Saturday.

Saskatchewan struck hard through the air, tossing 18 passes and completing 13 for 236 yards. They rolled 110 yards on the ground.

B.C.'s Arnie Galiffa tossed 32 passes, completing 17 for 193 yards. The heavy Lions team ran for 216 yards.

Saskatchewan fashioned the win on three converted touchdowns and a single. B.C. scored two converted touchdowns and a single.

Ken Carpenter bagged Riders' majors and Joe (The Toe) Aguirre converted them. The single came when Rob Panteg's attempted field goal went wide and Gil Bartosh, the scooter from Texas, fell on it in the end zone for a rouge.

B.C. didn't hit the score board until 1:57 of the third quarter when Arnie Galiffa passed to Bartosh who, while being tackled, lateraled to Joe De Luca who went through off two tackles and fell across.

Lions' second touchdown was also unorthodox. Panteg's fourth-quarter attempted kick out from the three-yard line was blocked and Norm Fielder swept it up and carried it across. Ron Baker, in Pollard's absence, kicked.

The single was a third-quarter rouge when Baker's attempted field goal went wide and Ron Adam converted.

In the third quarter, passing and running and taking advantage of two 15-yard penalties against Lions—one for no yards and one for illegal substitution—Riders marched 96 yards and capped it with Carpenter's last touchdown.

The half-time score was Saskatchewan 13, B.C. 0.

MIDWAY BULLETS GO ASTRAY

VANCOUVER (CP)—A stray bullet from a shooting gallery at the Pacific National Exhibition Monday night hit a woman in the leg. It was the second such incident on the midway in two days.

Mrs. E. Jesson was walking in the vicinity of the range when the wild 22 calibre slug struck her in the right calf. Police are investigating the accident.

A man was hit in the foot with a bullet in a similar accident on the midway Saturday.

SCHOOL BOARD LOSES

Shift of Decimal Point In Tax Form Costs $500

A clerical error in calculating first cropped up when the original school tax on a piece of Yarrow's value of the machine was rows shipyard heavy machinery declared. This was $8,972.50 will cost the school board $500 back in 1930, but the figure came out $89,725 on the 1954 tax form.

Actual assessed value of the particular piece of equipment should have read $6,078.80, which allowed for depreciation over the past 25 years.

Council found the only way it could legally correct the error and either credit Yarrow's with about $500 toward its tax bill, or pay off the over-charge, is to take the money away from the school board, which gets machinery tax.

NO KISSIN', NO NOTHIN' BUT HUBBY IS BACK

CHICAGO (AP)—An indignant housewife and her striking husband are together again.

Mrs. Esther Quigley, 35, was reunited with her husband, Andrew, a 220-pound steward for the CIO United Auto Workers' union, Monday night after nearly a week of dispute.

Mrs. Quigley told reporters, however, that the reunion resulted in "no kissing, no hugging, no tears, no nothing."

Mrs. Quigley had loudly opposed the strike of Local 1214 of the UAW at the Harrison Sheet Steel Co. During the work stoppage she had barred Andrew from their home.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Weston's Up 4.5 on Mixed Toronto Mart

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials eased a little from their mildly improved position of the morning and had a more mixed appearance in mid-afternoon trading on the Toronto stock market today. Price movements were mostly narrow but there were one or two good individual issues with gains, going almost to 4 1/2.

Profit-taking continued to whittle down base metal values. Other sections were irregular or lower.

Selective buying in papers, utilities, construction and financial institutions gave industrials their best support. Weston's was a standout gainer, up 4 1/2 to 112.

Noranda led the base metals off with a $1 drop. Most other seniors fell fractionally.

There were only scattered gains in uranium.

Husky, Federated Petroleum and United Oils were best western oil gainers.

McIntyre headed a softer goods section, off 1 1/4.

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy trading and good gains in aircrafts highlighted an otherwise sluggish stock market today.

Gains in aircrafts surged to as much as 6 points. Price changes in other major divisions were mostly fractional with some exceptions.

Republican Aviation was up around 3 points while United Aircraft ran its gain to around 6.

Following news of its 50 per cent stock dividend and a higher cash dividend.

Among Canadian issues, Hiram Walker and International Nickel each lost 4 1/2. Canadian Pacific was unchanged. Dome Mines lost 1/4.

MONTREAL (CP)—Industrials were mixed in moderately active dealings on the stock market today.

Weston climbed 2 points, Dominion Paper 1 1/2, St. Lawrence 1 1/2, Algoma 1 1/2, Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Imperial Oil 1/2.

VANCOUVER—Oils highlighted trading on the Vancouver stock market today, although over-all trading was slow. Vantor traded 8,000 at prices of 81 to 85 cents.

Sibak Premier traded 7,000 at 23 and 24 cents. Jackson Basin sold 12,500 at 41 to 42 1/2 cents.

LONDON (Reuters)—The London stock market continued on a downward trend today with losses widespread in the face of persistent talk that further monetary measures to combat the economic and financial situation are in the making.

The increase in the United States treasury rate also was a depressing influence. Gifted issues showed losses up to three-quarters. Declines of from a few pence to three shillings were recorded among industrials with Hudson's Bay three shillings lower.

Share Prices Seen Stabilized By Mutual-Fund Investments

By DAVE STOCK
Times Business Editor

VANCOUVER—Mutual fund investment companies—professionally managed firms, solely in the business of buying and selling securities—are becoming increasingly popular in North America and their activities are having a stabilizing effect on the stock market, Robert E. Clark, vice-president of Calvin Bullard, New York, told the 38th annual convention of the National Association of Securities Administrators Monday.

Mr. Clark said shareholders in mutual fund companies did not display the nervousness of those who play the markets as individuals. Consequently, he said, there has been no tendency toward liquidation on the part of investment company stockholders during periods of market decline.

"Quite the contrary has occurred," Mr. Clark said, "in recent periods of market decline, new shares purchased have exceeded redemptions."

At the same time, he said, the investment companies have helped to inject a bullish note into market activity by placing substantial buying orders during periods of price decline. He said this had occurred because the professional managers had recognized good bargains.

Mr. Clark reported that there were now some 2,000,000 persons with money invested in mutual fund companies. Sales by these companies during the first six months of this year, he said, had totalled $600,000,000.

Joint Action In Northwest Advocated

VANCOUVER (CP)—Greater partnership and participation by Canada and the U.S. in development of natural resources in the Pacific Northwest was urged Monday by Don Eastwood, attorney-general of the state of Washington.

Mr. Eastwood, addressing a meeting of the National Association of Securities Administrators, said that the northwest's hydro-electric power and natural gas were so intertwined "they can't be separated."

Recent natural gas negotiations were cited as a fine example of U.S. and Canadian interest "co-operating to serve the northwest as a whole."

He urged greater co-operation between the two federal governments and on the state-provincial level for full utilization of the region's natural resources.

"After all," he said, "the rivers don't stop at the border."

Soldier Finds Millions In Rare Metal

LONDON (Reuters)—A 28-year-old British soldier, who took up amateur geology two years ago, has discovered deposits of the rare mineral beryl that probably will make him a millionaire.

Cpl. William B. Harries, married to a Chinese girl and living in Hong Kong, already has struck six veins of the mineral in the Hong Kong area. One vein, about 100 yards long, is estimated to be worth between $1,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Students Beat Market ... With College's Money

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Gannon College students are using the school's money to play the stock market—and what's more, their investments are showing a tidy profit.

The money they use comes from a "student investment fund" given the school in 1950 by publisher Edward Lamb of the Erie Dispatch. Lamb has duplicated his original grant of $250 three times, the $10,000 has been invested by students in stocks with a current market value of $12,200. The lengthy list of stocks is being given back to the college.

Lamb said the purpose of the fund was to give the students an opportunity to gain practical experience in the mechanical operation of the stock market, the art of research and analysis and "the activities and potentially in other fields of industry which might in Vancouver.

influence their decision in choosing future employment."

Meetings to discuss the fund are held weekly by the students, but only business and finance students are allowed to vote on investments.

The Carters are luckier than they know!

Like all families, the Carters have plans and dreams for the future. But, unlike the families of just a generation ago, they have a better chance of making those dreams come true.

Why? One important reason is because life insurance—which belongs in all plans for future needs—is much more flexible today. During the past 25 years, a variety of new policies has been created. The modern "family income" policy, for instance, provides maximum coverage while children are young, and reduces in amount as they become older and self-supporting. Other policies have been developed to cover mortgages and to provide retirement income to fit in with the government old age security benefits.

So it goes. No matter how you may wish to link life insurance with your future plans, you can now find a way to do so with one or more of the numerous different kinds of contracts available today.

This wider choice reflects just one of the ways in which life insurance companies and their representatives have adapted their services to the changing needs of Canadians in all walks of life!

Towboat Firm Hits Shipyards

Blind Bowling Playoffs Seen Across Canada

Blind persons across Canada may soon be playing in a national bowling tournament. The Canadian Council of the Blind in convention here today approved a resolution recommending the 37 organizations across Canada engage in five pin bowling tournaments the coming season.

The resolution was one of several today dealing with recreation for the blind at the 11th annual convention.

The 22 council members present are also giving study to introduction of table bowling throughout the country, which has been practised by blind persons in the Maritimes the past few years.

The national five-pin tournament, if implemented, would mean provincial play-offs by the registered blind in each province.

On the subject of children, it was reported that sight-saving classes are being instituted in many cities for youngsters with poor vision who were formerly sent to schools for the blind.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is urging purchase of such sight-saving text books as the "magnifying" books of the department of education. Text is twice the size of the normal primer.

B.C. has already established four classes covering ages from elementary to high, in an endeavor to save eyesight, the convention heard.

Opposes Restrictions On Foreign-Built Ships

Strong opposition to restriction of Canadian coastal trade to Canadian-built vessels was expressed to the Royal Commission here today by one of B.C.'s largest towboat companies.

A submission by Island Tug and Barge Ltd. and its wholly-owned subsidiary Young and Gore Tugboats Ltd. took a directly opposite view to briefs read Monday by the British Columbia government and the Victoria shipyards.

The towboat companies own and operate 78 vessels totalling more than 33,000 tons.

The brief presented by Oliver Prentice, secretary-treasurer, stated bluntly:

"The growth of our organization has only been possible because of our ability to purchase foreign-built vessels."

Mr. Prentice pointed out that the majority of foreign tugs purchased by the companies were U.S. government war surplus and are modern and efficient vessels.

However, extensive conversion was necessary to fit them out for service on this coast. The brief stated: "Conversion costs have provided work for our local shipyards. The repairing and maintenance of all vessels, including foreign-built."

also provide a good deal of work each year for local yards."

Island Tug and Barge takes the position that had it not been for the importation of such vessels the economic development of British Columbia would have been seriously retarded.

COSTS CHECKED

The company also feels the ability to import British-built and U.S.-built vessels provides some check on the cost price to the shipping industry of Canadian-built vessels.

In a brief previously submitted to the commission while it was sitting in Ottawa, Island Tug and Barge stated: "We do not desire, or see any reason why, any legislation should be enacted to protect us from competition, nor do we have fears for the future of our business, which would require any protective legislation."

"We are confident of the future if we are permitted to continue unhampered by legal restrictions. We are not able to foresee a situation where British shipping can compete to our detriment on the west coast."

TOO MANY 'EYESORES'

Architect Deplores Box-Like Buildings

Today's "highly crass" society has resulted in building "eyesores" being foisted on the public, city architect John Di Castri, told the Kiwanis Club here today.

Most buildings constructed today, he said, are merely a means to increase capital. Designers are "too short-sighted to see that a building with quality will eventually prove much sounder than the 'cracker boxes' now being built."

While the public is critical of buildings, it is also reluctant to correct the faults and maintains silence on the issue, he said.

Few buildings of beauty are being erected today, though they should be, he said.

Mr. Di Castri said "we cannot go on much longer with the present type of home construction" because of high costs.

"GLORIFIED BOX"

Prefabrication is the answer to this, but few exploits into prefabrication have resulted up to the present in "anything but the glorified box."

New methods of home construction are available, but still required public acceptance, he said. These are the new creative form embracing prestressed concrete, suspension, plywood and plastics.

The field of building is one

in which "every layman feels he is an authority," and in accepting new forms sentimentalism for the past must be discarded, he maintained.

Psychology, he went on, has discovered people are affected by environment, and architecture was one of the great contributing factors to this.

There are the skills and techniques in Canada to create an "architectural tradition" which can stand alongside any in the world, he said.

"And we can do it."

Dogs Causing More Damage In Saanich

Saanich is running into more dog trouble as marauders continue to plague the countryside taking a heavy toll of sheep, poultry and cattle.

Mrs. John O. Carliss, 1515 Burnside, reported today that dogs broke into her chicken pen and slaughtered two golden Cochins bantams and eight chicks.

At the same time, Pat Cummins, foreman of the Colquitz Mental Home farm, in a letter to Saanich Council, said dogs are responsible for killing 41 chickens and two turkeys on the farm earlier this year.

4 CALVES LOST

In addition, he said, the farm lost four calves due to mauling dogs.

Earlier this month, two dogs killed 167 turkeys and injured many others on the Prospect Road farm of Charlie Newman. The turkey raiser plans to claim compensation from Saanich under the Sheep Protection Act.

Mr. Cummins wrote that a dog worried his registered cows on the Mental Home farm with the result that four calves were stillborn a week later. He shot the dog, he said.

He did not claim compensation from Saanich because the dog's owner agreed to pay for the damage done to the farm's stock.

Bert Thomas To Try Lake On Week-End

Bert Thomas will make his third attempt to swim from Kelowna to Penticton on Okanagan Lake Saturday or Sunday, then go into tripping in the Caribbean for an anticipated north-south swim of Juan de Fuca Strait next June or July, his lawyer, James Proudfoot, said today.

Thomas has been offered a contract to perform skin-diving in the Caribbean and expects to leave for the semi-tropical climate after finishing his try on Okanagan Lake.

He will make a brief trip to Victoria following his attempt at Penticton, for which he leaves Wednesday, hoping to be able to advise and assist Anna Burian in her second try on Juan de Fuca Strait.

The Vancouver nurse said today she may make her try before the end of this week, however, instead of waiting for favorable tides early in September.

Thomas' entry in the Canadian National Exhibition swim Labor Day has been cancelled.

Ove Witt, the ex-loggers' trainer since April 12, has terminated his relationship with Thomas because he feels he has to go back to work.

Malahat Blaze Over 30 Acres

A bush fire that broke out on the Malahat early Monday afternoon had spread to about 30 acres by press time today.

It is located on rough, side-hill country between the highway and water, and close to the well-known home of B. A. Peden.

A total of 30 men and two bulldozers were at work on the fire reported to be "contained."

The tractors and 15 of the men on the job came from Campbell-Bennett Ltd., now at work on relocation and improvement of the highway in this area.

ABC Forest Service Crew from the Langford ranger station has charge of firefighting operations.

"We first saw the smoke Monday afternoon," said an observer at Hall's boathouse, well south of the fire area. "It seems to be getting thicker all the time."

Smoke from the fire has been noticed as far south as Goldstream, and to the north as far as the Malahat Chalet.

TORONTO PAIR REALLY 'LOST' IN TINY CITY

The well-worn saying people from Toronto are really "lost" was given added impetus here within the last few hours.

From the Ontario metropolis which boasts over 1,000,000 persons, Monday came vacationers Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shackleton. And promptly proceeded to get lost in this comparatively tiny community of a mere 120,000 persons.

Mrs. Shackleton and hubby arrived on the afternoon boat from Vancouver. She went into the publicity bureau to ask area information.

When she came out her husband had disappeared. He went to the Strathcona Hotel where reservations had been made and waited—and waited. Then she notified police.

Mr. Shackleton was discovered by the constabulary safely, as cued in the Churchill Hotel at 11:30 today.

The pair are now safely, and happily together again.

A RELIEF, BUT OH! THE COST

Children Go Back to School With New Clothes Worth $25

By PETE LOUDON

A check of leading city clothiers for the younger set revealed Monday that back-to-school purchases by teen-agers is costing Dad about $25 per student.

But so far this year there is no set fad and the clothing dollar is going not so much for new outfits as to round out old ones.

Storemen say, too, that "cost is nothing" to most of their young customers.

"They see what they want and get it. Cost is a secondary item."

Presumably the money is what was earned through the summer months.

Girls are choosing orlon sweaters in a trend continued from last year and are sticking to slim-cut black skirts with kick-pleats at the back.

One new item of co-ed apparel, "match-mates" are also popular. These are sweaters and skirts which have been dyed to match through co-operation between manufacturers. The set goes at about $16. Once again, however, there hasn't been a heavy enough rush for them to establish a fad.

Some buyers are nervously biting their fingernails and hoping that if a fad does develop it will be for some line that is heavy on their shelves.

One had the audacity to condemn the weather. Victoria's Indian summer is going to see the youngsters wandering back to classes in their sunshine clothes, he felt. Parents may get away with sending Johnnie in his T-shirt for a few weeks before buying fall clothes.

THEY'RE MEN NOW

They note with glee that most 14 and 15-year-old boys are bypassing the youths' counters now and shopping in the men's section. The extra dollars they pay are apparently worthy of the distinction.

SOAP BOX RACE OFF THIS YEAR

Tenth annual Times-Wilson Motors-Knights of Pythias soap box derby slated for Labor Day, next Monday, has been postponed until next summer, it was announced today.

Decision to hold over until 1956 was made following Knights of Pythias discontinuation of its part in the popular races because of other club commitments.

The Times and Wilson Motors expect to sponsor a bigger and better derby next year, possibly earlier in the season.

Lord Mayor Arriving for State Visit

London's Lord Mayor, 67-year-old stockbroker Sir Seymour Howard, was scheduled to arrive in Victoria at 3:45 p.m. today from Vancouver to address a luncheon meeting Wednesday, visit Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace, attend the opening Wednesday of the new B.C. Electric building and go on a sightseeing tour.

He will be here until mid-afternoon, Thursday, guest of Mr. Wallace.

Sir Seymour was slated to be met at the boat on arrival by the lieutenant governor's aide-de-camp, Major R. W. Phillips, and Mayor Claude Harrison. He will be driven to Government House, and dine there tonight.

Present at the dinner will be Premier W. A. C. Bennett with other provincial and military dignitaries.

At 12:15 Wednesday Sir Seymour addresses a joint luncheon meeting in the Empress hotel of the Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Club. He will be introduced by club president Douglas Patterson and thanked by Hugh Stephen of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sir Seymour will be accompanied by his sword bearer and first squire William Boston, OBE, who was last here in 1951 with the then Lord Mayor Sir Denys Lawson.

After the luncheon they will tour the area, returning for the BCE opening at 5 p.m.

At the joint luncheon, Sir Seymour's subject of address will be "A Briton's Impression of British Columbia." He has just returned from an extensive tour of the province. His address will be carried at 1:05 by radio station CJVL.

Thursday the distinguished visitor will be the guest of the city at a luncheon in the Union Club. He leaves in mid-afternoon via TCA for Vancouver.

30-Day Sentence For Autoist Who Hit Pedestrian

Thirty-day jail term was imposed today on Halger A. Wickstrom, 2818 Shakespeare, when he appeared in city court for sentence on a charge of criminally negligent driving.

Wickstrom was the driver of a car Saturday night which struck a woman pedestrian on a sidewalk at Belmont and Haultain and then knocked down a fire hydrant.

The woman, Mrs. Rosine MacKay, 1461 Walnut, suffered left ankle abrasions when she was knocked down.

Wickstrom was turning from Haultain on to Belmont when the accident occurred at about 6:40 p.m.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Word has reached me of the formation of the Society for the Preservation and Revival of the Pun as a form of Humor.

In fact, the Society is about to hold a convention in New York, and the news distresses me very much.

Nor that I am against the Society holding a convention. Nor do I disagree with the aims and objects implicit in the title of the Society.

It is the very existence of the Society which makes me unhappy. Societies for the Preservation Of are only organized when there is a danger of something valuable becoming extinct.

For instance, nobody gave a whoop about whooping cranes until the cranes hardly had a nest left to whoop in. The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartette Singing in America was not formed until the art of close harmony was on the verge of giving way to adonoidal young men with megaphones. (I said megaphones, not microphones, son; I'm an old man.)

Thus you can see why the existence of a Society to protect the pun gives me cause for extreme alarm.

I had not realized the pun was in danger of dying out. In fact, knowing that the pun has been with us since 1662 (according to the Oxford dictionary), I felt it was safe for a few more centuries.

But now I've heard about the Society for the Preservation and Revival of the Pun, I hasten to offer it every support.

Personally, I'd be lost without the pun. I am so fond of puns. I not only laugh at my own (or ones I have stolen), but I laugh at other people's puns, too.

Very few people laugh at other people's puns. Instead, they groan, hold their noses, make noises of disgust, and wave lethal weapons in the air.

This action, of course, fools nobody. It is just that most people feel it is gauche to admit enjoyment at hearing a pun. Instead of being heralded with peals of joyous laughter, most puns are greeted with raucous condemnation.

Fortunately, this does not signify lack of appreciation for the pun. The louder the sounds of disapproval, the more successful the pun.

Thus it has been since 1662, thus it is now, and thus, I hope, it will be until the end of time.

But just to make sure, let us give every possible assistance to the Society for the Preservation and Revival of the Pun.

Society, we are at your service. What do we do next? No soon said—than pun!

Back-to-School Styles
For Fashion-Wise Misses

By PENNY SAVER

Exciting new colors and styles in corduroy seem to be the watch-word in fashions for school girls this fall. Just look around and you'll see the colors that are warming the hearts of the well-dressed young girls. Some of the names are enough to perk up any drab day, and the classrooms will be one burst of color all fall and winter. Lion tamer red, leopard gold, buffalo brown and tiger blue are some of the newest. The ever-popular straight and slim skirt is still around, but with a slightly new touch. It has a zipper front and two pockets. Smartness itself. Teamed up with one of the versatile shirt-jackets, it will be one of the teen-ager's favorite outfits. The shirt-jacket is a go everywhere piece of clothing.

It has long sleeves, with cuffs, and a pointed, button-down collar. Tucked in, it is a warm complement for that skirt. Or left outside the skirt, it doubles as a jacket over a lighter blouse. On warm fall days, this will be all the jacket needed.

A jacket that is very much like a pullover is another favorite. It has a casual pointed collar that spreads in a slight V at the neckline. The front is fashioned with a slight slit from the neckline, and there are two patch pockets that will be the resting places for many items, no doubt.

Each of the outfit pieces are the same price, $6.95. Mix them and match them to your heart's content, and they'll last for ages.

Another topper for the corduroy scene, is the collarless blazer. It has a contrasting piping around the neck, down the front, and around the pockets. It's semi-fitted, and will be very smart with the straight cord skirts mentioned, or with any other wardrobe favorite. Black jackets have red piping; green jackets, red piping, and red jackets, black piping. The price is very right, too. They're $10.95.

Nylon and orlon sweaters are a rage right now, too, in wonderful, delicious new colors.

Some of the colors? There's pure white, pale yellow, powder blue, delphinium blue, flame red, soft green, lime green, chocolate brown, mauve, tan, pink, shrimp, navy, orange, sherbet, royal blue and olive. What more could you ask? Short-sleeved pullovers are $6.95; long-sleeved pullovers, $7.95, and cardigans, $8.95.

AS WE LIVE

Fills Gap in Her Life,
But Is It Really Love?

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

A lonely person, starved for affection and companionship, may mistake for love his feeling for whatever person fills this need.

(Q)—"I am a married woman of 33 and my husband is in the service. He has been away for eight months now. Since he left, I have met and fallen in love with a single man. This man says he loves me very much and wants me to get a divorce and marry him. I can't seem to get him out of my mind. I don't really love him, but I have never told him of this man. I also have a daughter of 12. This man says he would take her and love her also. Please advise me what to do."

(A)—Wait until your husband returns home on leave before making any decision. You are unquestionably lonely with your husband away. Under such conditions, the companionship of a man who says he loves you is filling a gap in your life and coloring your whole attitude toward your future. It has so affected your thinking that any decision you made at this time would not, in all probability, reflect the true situation.

When your husband returns, you may find it is he whom you love and that you want your marriage to go on. That would be the ideal solution and that is what you should work for.

Have you discussed with this man what a great responsibility and care a 12-year-old girl is? As a single man, he probably does not realize how much he would be assuming. And how does your daughter feel about your replacing her father with this man? You must consider her, too.

I think that, in fairness to your husband, you should mention in your letters that you have met this man and have been seeing him. Don't, of course, tell him you have fallen in love with him, or have any thoughts of divorce.

It certainly would cushion the blow to your husband on his return if he knew that you had been seeing another man in his absence. He may even suspect, from the tone of your letters, that you are falling in love and be prepared for your attitude when he sees you.

National Council Head
Gives Own Road Rules

MONTREAL — Men may do most of the car driving. But with perhaps the year's peak period of highway traffic coming up, women should remember that they too can help avoid accidents.

So says Mrs. Allan Turner Bone, president of the National Council of Women of Canada.

"Vacation time is nearly over now," she pointed out today, "and people will soon be starting to close their summer camps. Children will be going back to school. And the Labor Day week-end is not far away. This means that probably more cars than ever before will soon be travelling on Canadian highways."

"Women should remember they are not simply passengers," Mrs. Turner Bone warned. "A car driver is so intent on driving that there are many safety aids he overlooks. These a woman can attend to."

She offered these six rules, addressed exclusively to the womenfolk:

1. Make sure the car doors are locked. It's good precaution and may save children from a nasty fall.
2. Prevent the children from distracting the driver; he may be negotiating a tricky turn. And keep them from fiddling with door handles and pushing buttons.
3. See that the driver stops for a cup of strong coffee or some other alertness beverage every 100 miles or so and to stretch his legs. If you'll be travelling where restaurants and lunch counters are few and far between, brew a pot at home and carry the beverage in a vacuum bottle. Don't forget the children: fill another flask, with milk, feed water or one of the sweetened home drinks for them.

4. Give the driver a break. If you are a licensed driver, take a spell at the wheel yourself occasionally.

5. Don't ask the driver to open the windows if the air in the car gets stale. Open them yourself.

6. Conversation is fine — a limited amount of it helps keep the driver alert. But don't discuss worrisome things. And above all, avoid arguing: it's better to lose the argument than distract the driver at the wheel.

Wilson-Wolf Wedding
In St. Mary's Church

To strains of traditional wedding music, Miss Klara Wolf entered St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, last Friday evening, for her marriage to Allan Herman Wilson, Archdeacon A. E. del Nungas officiated at the double-ring ceremony in a setting of pink and white gladioli and sweet peas.

The petite, fair-haired bride, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Wolf, of Duncan, B.C., was given in marriage by her brother, Leopold Wolf. She wore a floor-length gown of white nylon net and Chantilly lace over taffeta, with matching net and lace jacket. Her fingertip veil of misted illusion net, embroidered in silk was held by an orange blossom coronet which had been worn by the groom's mother on her wedding day. Pink rosebuds and white stephanotis were in her cascade bouquet. Her jewelry was Spanish pearls.

Miss Ella Wolf, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, in a floor-length powder blue nylon net gown with matching stole. Her headpiece was powder blue net trimmed with sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink gladioli. Miss Klara-Koer, cousin of the bride, and Miss Alice Baumgard were bridesmaids. Miss Koerber wore a pink nylon net and lace gown with floral headpiece of pink carnations and carried a cas-

Miss Judith Clare Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, 2538 Quadra Street, became the bride of Barry Thomas Rushworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rushworth, 1821 Cook Street, in an evening ceremony in the Church of Our Lord, last Saturday.

Rev. J. G. Brown performed the ceremony. Baskets of mixed summer flowers were placed in the church, and guest pews were marked with small bouquets of pink carnations and fern. Soloist, Miss Deanna Johnson, sang "Dedication."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown with bouffant skirt and long lily-point sleeves. Her short veil was caught to a dainty headpiece. White gladioli and red roses were in her colonial bouquet.

Mrs. N. Chute was matron of honor for her sister, and wore a turquoise net over taffeta gown in ballerina length. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow gladioli. Miss Margaret DeMan was bridesmaid, in a pink net over taffeta ballerina length gown. Her colonial bouquet was of pink gladioli.

Peter Paterson was best man, and the ushers, N. Chute, brother-in-law of the bride, and her brothers, Bill Harrison and Kenny Harrison.

A reception was held in the Orange Hall following the ceremony where Frank Waters proposed a toast to the bride's happiness.

The honeymoon is being spent at Oyster Bay, B.C. The bride traveled in a black and white check suit with black accessories, complemented with a corsage of pink carnations.

Attendants' Autumn-Toned Gowns
Accent Bride's Ivory Ensemble

Green and gold shot-taffeta gowns in ankle length were worn by three attendants of the bride, Miss Joyce Main, at the ceremony, which united her in marriage with Robert Charles Vaughan.

The attractive bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ross Main, chose an Elizabethan gown of ivory faille and taffeta, with a full skirt and fichu back, extending into a graceful train.

The portrait neckline was banded with Alencon lace and pearl embroidery. Long sleeves tapered into lily points over the wrists. Her chapel veil of silk illusion net was caught to a headpiece of Alencon lace, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Laurie Cummings, Vancouver, was maid of honor; Miss Ann Maclean, bridesmaid, and Miss Heather Main, cousin of the bride, junior bridesmaid.

Their gowns were designed with full skirt and dropped waistlines emphasized by wide gold sashes. Their bouquets were of bebe flame gladioli, and headpieces were of green and gold leaves of the same material as their gowns. Shoes and gloves were en tone.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Cecil Vaughan, 3017 Larkdowne Road, had as his best man, George B. Watt, Chicago, Ill. Ushers were Kenneth Hanson, David Renwick, Vancouver, Douglas Main and Gerald Main, brothers of the bride.

Rev. James E. Smith performed the ceremony in Emmanuel

Further Study Of Library Plan For Esquimalt

Committee to Report on Agreement Setting Costs for 5 Municipalities

Further study of a plan for joint municipal ownership of the Public Library will be given by Esquimalt council agreed at a meeting Monday.

Esquimalt is the sole hold-out to the plan which would give Oak Bay, Saanich, Central Saanich, Victoria and Esquimalt voice in library administration based on population and book circulation per annum.

A three-man committee consisting of C. K. Sammon, George Argyle and Arthur Fields will report on the agreement apportioning equity to the five governments, after further study and consultation with the municipal solicitor.

"We can't just drag on and hold up this agreement," Reeve A. C. Wurtelle said.

Much of Esquimalt concern over terms of the new agreement is that library costs would rise from the present $8,100 a year, based on circulation, to $13,940 a year, based on circulation plus $1 a head of population.

MORE THAN PARKS

Also objected to is the fact that library costs are higher than parks and playgrounds annual expenditure in Esquimalt.

A delegation consisting of inter-municipal library committee chairman Ald. Millard Moore, Oak Bay Reeve Fred Norris and city manager Cecil Wyatt, outlined the new plan and answered councillor's questions.

Oak Bay (which originally asked for a vote in library administration 18 months ago), Saanich and Central Saanich have already agreed in principle to the new plan drawn up by the city.

The agreement is drawn on the basis of equity ownership when $350,000 debentures owing on the library mature in 20 years. It would not alter library debt, Mr. Wyatt explained.

LONG-TERM PACT

Reeve Norris pointed out the uniqueness of the situation in that a yes or no answer to the plan would have to be binding over a long period since capital equity is involved.

If the plan were rejected by a municipality now but agreed to by the others and brought into operation, then it might be difficult for a municipality to get in on the agreement at a later date, because of the lag in time and equity payment.

Mr. J. E. Carey said it is up to the people to decide whether the municipality can afford the

3 City Drivers, Careless, Fined

Three drivers were fined in city police court today on careless driving charges.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall fined Kevin MacNamara, 2900 Haultain, $30 or seven days in jail. He was driving west on Hillside on Aug. 21 when in collision with a pole.

Two persons were taken to hospital. The car was a total wreck. Magistrate Hall restricted him to driving for business only for six months.

Camille F. Doucet was fined $40 or five days in jail and restricted to business driving only for three months.

Doucet was involved in a two-car collision Aug. 20 on Belleville.

Fine of $35 or five days in jail was imposed on Joe Singh, 2814 Nainaimo. He was involved in an accident Aug. 18 on Belmont.

Town Plan Board Asked to Reverse Saanich Ruling

Saanich council Monday asked its town planning commission to reconsider an application of McColi-Fontenac Oil Co. for the rezoning of the corner of Newton and Richmond for construction of a gas-line station.

The town planners earlier turned down the application.

Mr. Leslie Passmore urged council to support the commission's recommendation.

"Everyone is against the commercialization of this corner except the company," he said. "The town planners must have good reasons for being against the project."

The proposed site is opposite the new commercial subdivision of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at the old Lansdowne airfield. CMHC has set aside 23 acres for commercial purposes in this area.

Reeve Norris admitted Oak Bay would stand to gain by the new agreement, which would reduce payments from the present $30,000 a year to about $22,000 a year, "but that's not our primary interest," he said.

Oak Bay concern is a matter of principle in expenditure of funds, the reeve said.

Mr. Argyle asked if per capita contributions were adjusted from the proposed $1 per head, could assessment under the new agreement be made the same as presently under the book usage agreement?

Mr. Wyatt said such adjustment would be possible.

Red Tape in England Delays Attempt To Prove Shakespeare Just 'Paid Hack'

CHICHESTER, Eng. (Reuters)—American drama critic Calvin Hoffman—who is convinced a 300-year-old tomb holds evidence William Shakespeare was a fake—sailed for the United States Monday after four months of fruitless waiting.

But he said firmly that he will be back within a month to try to settle once and for all his long-standing feud with the bard of Avon—whom Hoffman dismisses as an inglorious "hack-writer."

For 20 years Hoffman has gathered information and facts in an attempt to prove the plays attributed to Shakespeare were actually written by his contemporary, Christopher Marlowe. A book he wrote on the theory was published recently.

Hoffman says he is convinced that 26 manuscripts of Shakespeare's first folio he buried in a lead box in the tomb of Sir

Thomas Walsingham, Marlowe's patron. He believes Marlowe, who is said to have died in a tavern room's brawl, actually faked his death and fled England to escape being burned at the stake as a heretic.

A PAID HACK?
Then, according to Hoffman, Marlowe sent Walsingham his plays and Walsingham paid Shakespeare to present them under his name. Hoffman thinks the manuscripts will prove Marlowe was the real author.

For years the local parochial church council refused Hoffman permission to unseal Walsingham's tomb.

But this year the council agreed to the project. Permission was also received from H. S. Marsham-Townshend, owner of the tomb. But before it can be unearthed the diocesan registrar and the home office must give their permission.

Hoffman said "Things take a

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE THERE

TV Quiz Winner Off On Trip to Homeland

NEW YORK (UP)—Gino Prato, the cheerful little cobbler who won $32,000 on a television program, left by plane today for a reunion with his aging father in Italy.

It was to finance the trip that Gino gambled as far as the $32,000 question on the program, the $64,000 question. He said he quit short of the top question despite his knowledge of opera, his chosen topic, because of the cabled advice of his father, Giovanni. The advice was "E basta così" or "That's enough," Gino said.

Accompanying Prato on the trip is his daughter Lorraine, 23, and her husband, Eugene Joannides, 26. The couple was married Saturday in a Bronx church.

Meanwhile in Italy the excited people of Gino's native hamlet wondered and worried how to welcome back the humble shoemaker made rich and famous by television.

How, they asked, can poor Statiale, a village of 500, perched on a north Italian hillside, give a worthy homecoming to a lucky and famous man?

For Statiale is just as poor today as it was when Gino left a quarter of a century ago. And Gino the shoemaker is rich now.

The news finally came by telegram that the "American" would arrive in Rome Aug. 31 and come here a day or so later. The telegram actually arrived Thursday night, but the telephone office is in the village of Ne and it takes 90 minutes to walk to Statiale.

He was speaking of lire, of course, it takes 625 lire to make one dollar. But $32,000 here is almost like a million dollars in New York. It makes 20 million lire here.

Gino's "daddy" could not be approached. He let it be known through one of his granddaughters that he does not like visits, especially if visitors are reporters.

He has been, bothered enough," the girl said. "He waits for his son to arrive and that's all. He has nothing to say because he knows nothing." She shut the door.

BALKS AT BOND

MONTREAL (UP)—Three Rivers is ready to enter a club in the Quebec Hockey League but the backers are balking at putting up the $25,000 bond demanded by the other clubs.

League president George M. Slater reported after a conference in Three Rivers Monday night that the proposed club has 15 players lined up and financial backing of $150,000, plus 1,500 persons who have promised to buy season tickets to 32 home games.

Langford Petition Fails To Stop Thetis Zoning

Changes in regional planning regulations which would allow landowners to vote on government-approved changes in land status was asked today by Langford propertyowner Richard Sewell.

His comment came on the heels of new zoning and building regulations approved Monday by the provincial cabinet for an adjacent area.

Mr. Sewell asks that a two-thirds majority of landowners approve any changes in zoning before action is taken.

As the situation now exists, he said, the regional planning department has "complete control of land use."

In a letter to Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black, which included a petition from Langford residents, he asked that no changes be made in the area until property owners had been notified, and approved the change.

Mr. Black's reply, quoted by Mr. Sewell, was that the petition has no bearing on what is being reconsidered.

Earlier, Langford residents had protested the zoning plan for the area on either side of the Island Highway between Thetis Lake and Millstream Road, saying it was "the thin edge of the wedge" for zoning Langford.

BRITAIN DETERMINED TO RETAIN CYPRUS

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain told Greece today that the maintenance of British sovereignty over the Mediterranean island colony of Cyprus is vital to NATO defence commitments.

Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan strongly restated the known British attitude in a long historical survey of the Cyprus problem at the first business session of a three-power conference with Greece and Turkey, witnesses said.

Macmillan's refusal to countenance any move to turn the island over to Greece—as demanded by elements of its predominantly Greek population—had been expected.

POLICE PROBE GOES ON

Firing 'Threat' Laid to Chief

VANCOUVER (BUP)—More Brown, secretary of Police Federation, told the commission today to testify before a royal the force had degenerated commission inquiry into the allegedly lax discipline practices by chief constable Walter Mulligan.

Constable John Ellis told Commissioner R. H. Tupper that in 1950 he was charged with another officer with smoking on duty in a patrol car. Ellis said: "The other constable admitted to Mulligan that he was smoking but pointed out that I was a non-smoker."

"I told the chief that I did not smoke. Mulligan just got angry when I said this," Ellis said.

Ellis said that Mulligan said to him "the matter with you is that you have a chip on your shoulder. You do not think I can fire you. You are wrong there. I can fire you when ever I like."

In reply to J. G. A. Hutchison, counsel of the royal commission, Ellis said he knew of no corruption or acceptance of payoff money in the force.

Second witness was constable Gordon Sinclair, who told Hutchison he had heard rumors of payoffs and corruption but had no definite knowledge. Sinclair added that about two years ago there was an increase in the number of charges laid by police against criminals but that later there had been a slight drop off. Sinclair said there was usually an increase in major crime in the fall. On Monday constable Danny

Phones, Electricity Also Taxable Under UBC Expert's Plan

EDMONTON (CP)—Broadening of the municipal tax base by the imposition of taxes which the municipalities would have to collect was proposed today by Dr. Robert M. Clark of Vancouver, associate professor of economics at the University of British Columbia.

NEW PROPOSALS

Fruit, Milk Strikes Near Settlement

KELOWNA, B.C. (BUP)—The six-day strike of 3,000 Okanagan Valley fruit pack-housers workers neared a settlement today as the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union (AFL-TLC), accepted terms of a conciliation offer.

Brian Cooney, director of organization for the union which called the strike last Thursday in support of demands for a 10-cent an hour wage boost, said "the terms are a bit rough but at least they can be accepted as an honorable compromise."

The compromise offer, details of which are not immediately made public, was put forward by G. A. Carmichael, provincial government conciliation officer who was appointed at the weekend.

Representatives of the milkmen's union and 10 dairies reached an agreement in Vancouver Monday in a wage dispute that threatened to halt milk supplies in the Greater Vancouver area.

Officials will recommend to a general union membership meeting Thursday that a new contract be signed with the dairymen.

Agreement in Vancouver makes a brighter picture for 185 Victoria drivers and inside dairy workers and three distributing firms here, although it was not certain that distributors would accept the mainland settlement as a basis for further negotiation.

Victoria workers have already been awarded parity in respect to wages and working conditions, with Vancouver workers, but the conciliation report granting equity was rejected by the three Victoria firms.

He told the conference, attended by 400 delegates from across Canada, municipalities have been forced into fields which were never intended for them.

"Because municipal government is the government closest to the people, we have often been pressed into action rather than wait for the senior levels to get around to the job."

The municipal tax burden now is too much for some persons, he said.

CIVIC HEAD UNHAPPY

'Policemen Always Win at Arbitration'

EDMONTON (CP)—The city commissioner for Saskatoon said Monday arbitration for police and firemen in Saskatchewan has "made a mockery out of collective bargaining."

H. W. Balfour, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities that the two bodies of employees now have a "gross advantage" of establishing wages and working conditions.

Under Saskatchewan law, policemen and firemen unable to negotiate a working contract, must go to arbitration. The award is binding on employer and employees.

Mr. Balfour, in discussing municipal labor relations, said police and firemen get what

Speaking to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Dr. Clark suggested four courses of action to help the municipal finance problems:

1. A municipal levy on automobiles;
2. A municipal amusement tax;
3. A municipal tax on electricity and telephone bills; and
4. A municipal tax on outlets selling alcoholic beverages.

He said a tax on all motorized vehicles, collected at the same time as the provincial licence fee, could yield a significant amount of revenue. Saint John, N.B., already has such a tax.

He said he would like to see the provincial government vacate the amusement tax field in favor of municipalities.

REPAY CIVIC OUTLAYS
The basic justification for taxation of alcoholic beverages was that they are luxuries whose consumption "lead to the need for greater expenditure on certain services, such as hospitals, than would otherwise be necessary."

Dr. Clark said the addition of one or more of the suggested taxes would have four advantages: Help maintain the independence of municipal councils in determining civic policies; make the basis of local revenues slightly more stable; make the municipal taxation system fairer; reduce the burden on property and business taxes.

He cautioned municipalities there was a danger of them losing their independence if they continue to get more grants from the provinces.

"SHAMEFULLY OVERDUE"
Earlier Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto spotlighted the financial problems of municipalities in an appeal for another federal-provincial-municipal conference.

Mayor Phillips said that in 1951 70.9 per cent of tax revenues went to the federal government, 17.2 per cent went to provincial governments and 11.9 per cent went to municipal governments.

PRESSED FOR ACTION
He told the conference, attended by 400 delegates from across Canada, municipalities have been forced into fields which were never intended for them.

Stock Leader Gives Advice To Little Man

By DAVE STOCK
Times Business Editor

VANCOUVER—How should a working man who manages to scrape together a few hundred dollars go about getting into the stock market?

The answer to that question, according to G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, is: "He shouldn't."

Nobody should invest in common stocks until he has provided a reserve for himself either in a savings bank or in government bonds," Mr. Funston said in an interview today.

"He should get that first in case of emergency and should also have sufficient life insurance in case of catastrophe."

Mr. Funston, who at 44 has been four years the head of the world's most famous market place, said that only after those first conditions had been met could a man "take the risk of owning common stocks."

PLAN PROGRAM

Mr. Funston, who arrived here Monday night to take part in the 38th annual meeting of the National Association of Securities Administrators, said, too, that a person getting into the market for the first time should proceed with caution and plan his program with someone with experience.

"A man investing in common stocks should tailor his portfolio to meet his needs," Mr. Funston said.

The New Yorker regretted that many novice investors refused to follow this recommended course.

"The average Joe Doakes," he said, "figures he's going to make a killing on the market. If he does, he'll take all the credit, himself, but if he doesn't he blames the securities industry."

Mr. Funston said he placed uranium issues "at the bottom of the list" so far as investors with limited means were concerned.

People should only put their money into highly speculative issues when they know what they're doing and know that the money is going into the company's operation and not just to the promoters, and (b) only when they can afford the risk of losing."

Mr. Funston will be one of the principal speakers when the security administrators convention moves to Victoria to conclude its work there on Wednesday and Thursday. He is scheduled to address a luncheon meeting Thursday at noon in the Empress Hotel.

Head of U.S. Stock Exchange Says Huge New Capital Needed Here

By DAVE STOCK, Times Business Editor
VANCOUVER—A few high-pressure, fringe-operating security dealers in Canada are doing great harm to this country's investment picture as viewed in the United States, Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, said here today.

Speaking at noon to delegates attending the 38th annual meeting of the National Association of Securities Administrators described the fly-by-night operator as "a fly in the ointment" and impressed upon his audience "These are the individuals whose activities must be ended if investor confidence in Canadian investments is to be maintained."

Mr. McCormick emphasized that only a minority of Canadian dealers were guilty of such behaviour but stressed "Their transactions have an overall impact far out of proportion to their relative number."

BIG CAPITAL NEEDED
Canada, Mr. McCormick said, is assured of a great future as a producing industrial nation but to achieve this status a vast amount of new capital will be needed here.

The amount of this new capital, he said, "will pale into insignificance the sum invested and expended on capital projects during the past post-war period. And this capital must be obtained not only from fresh domestic sources—but foreign sources as well."

The United States, he said, was the logical source of the biggest share of outside capital. During the nine years ended December, 1954, he said, U.S. investment in Canada had increased from $4,990,000 to $9,547,000.

With reference to the American Stock Exchange, Mr. McCormick explained:

"Over many years we have recognized the growth potential of Canadian industry and, as a consequence, we have today become the largest market for Canadian securities outside of Canada."

At the end of 1954, the American exchange had 95 Canadian issues listed, and the volume of trading in these securities for the year amounted to 41,596,955 shares, representing more than 25 per cent of the exchange's entire volumes.

OTTAWA (CP)—The bureau of statistics in its first forecast of 1955-56 grain output today predicted a wheat crop of 500,587,000 bushels. It realized, the crop would be 67 per cent greater than the last crop year's low 299,000,000 bushels.—It would compare with the 1945-54 average of 443,800,000 bushels.

Russian Arms Sent Into Troubled Areas?

Dulles Says Reds Reported Ready To Ship Equipment to Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles said today there have been reliable reports that Russia has offered arms to some countries in the Middle East.

Such an action by Russia—the supplying of arms to nations in a troubled area—would not contribute to the relaxing of world tensions, Dulles said.

He made clear to a press conference that he had no official information on the reported Russian offers of arms.

Reports of the offers have circulated for several weeks in diplomatic quarters here.

NO EVIDENCE

Dulles declined to name any country as the target of the Soviet offers.

But he responded to a question about whether he knew of offers to Egypt or other states in the Middle East, and said simply that there are indications that such offers may have been made.

Dulles said there was no evidence that he knew of that Soviet equipment actually was in Arab hands. Those countries have been getting their military supplies from non-Communist sources, he said.

Dulles also said the U.S. has urged both Israel and Egypt within the last 48 hours to refrain from the use of force in their border dispute.

Swaps, Nashua
All Ready for Match Race

CHICAGO (UP)—Strategy will be forgotten Wednesday when Swaps and Nashua tangle in their $100,000 match race at Washington Park, and both trainers intimated today "the fastest horse will win the race."

Neither Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Nashua's handler, nor Meschach Tenney, trainer of Swaps, would predict that a world record would be broken in the mile and one quarter gallop, each under 126 pounds.

But there was the suggestion that if pressed hard enough, either horse could clip the 1:58 1/5 record hung up by Noor at Golden Gate, June 24, 1950.

Rex Ellsworth, Swaps' owner, said he would have "about a dozen words of instruction" for jockey Willie Shoemaker, while Fitzsimmons figured on little more in his last pre-race conversation with Eddie Arcaro.

"Shoe and the horse know each other pretty well," Ellsworth said. "You don't have to tell him how to run the race."

Observers believed that Swaps would be let out to set the early pace and defy Nashua to catch him. Then it would be Arcaro's problem to rate his horse close enough to the front-runner to pull ahead in the final sixteenth.

"Anybody that would send a horse out after a record in this race would be a fool," Tenney said. "When Swaps set a world record in California, I had a feeling he would do it, because I thought it would take a world record to win the race. But I wouldn't guess on this one."

BRITAIN DETERMINED

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain told Greece today that the maintenance of British sovereignty over the Mediterranean island colony of Cyprus is vital to NATO defence commitments.

Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan strongly restated the known British attitude in a long historical survey of the Cyprus problem at the first business session of a three-power conference with Greece and Turkey, conference sources said.

Macmillan's refusal to contenance any move to turn the island over to Greece—as demanded by elements of its predominantly Greek population—had been expected.

EDMONTON (CP)—Broadening of the municipal tax base by the imposition of taxes which the municipalities would have to collect was proposed today by Dr. Robert M. Clark of Vancouver, associate professor of economics at the University of British Columbia.

Speaking to the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Dr. Clark suggested four courses of action to help the municipal finance problems:

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four more police officers gave complaints before the Tupper Royal Commission today concerning past treatment received from Police Chief Walter Mulligan.

Seven officers Monday voiced complaints against wrongful charges in testimony before Commissioner Reginald H. Tupper appointed July 6 to investigate all phases of police activity.

First to testify today was Const. Frederick John Ellis who said that he was paraded before the chief five years ago accused of smoking in a police car while on patrol.

Const. Ellis said he told the chief he was a life-long non-smoker but the chief's reply was: "Don't tell me you don't smoke. I saw you."

He said the chief threatened to make an example of him and after some argument on whether he was or was not a non-smoker, told him:

DISMISSAL THREAT "Your trouble is you have a chip on your shoulder. Don't think I can't fire you. I can just like that," Const. Ellis said Chief Mulligan told him, snapping his fingers.

Asked by T. G. Norris, Q.C. counsel for the police chief, if his complaint "wasn't only small potatoes," Const. Ellis said he had been grieved "because the chief called him a liar."

Const. Gordon Sinclair said it was in orders that radio operators on duty in the police building should wear full uniforms including guns, but on one occasion in 1947 Charles Mulligan, the building superintendent at the alarm station (not a police officer), objected to Const. Sinclair wearing his revolver.
